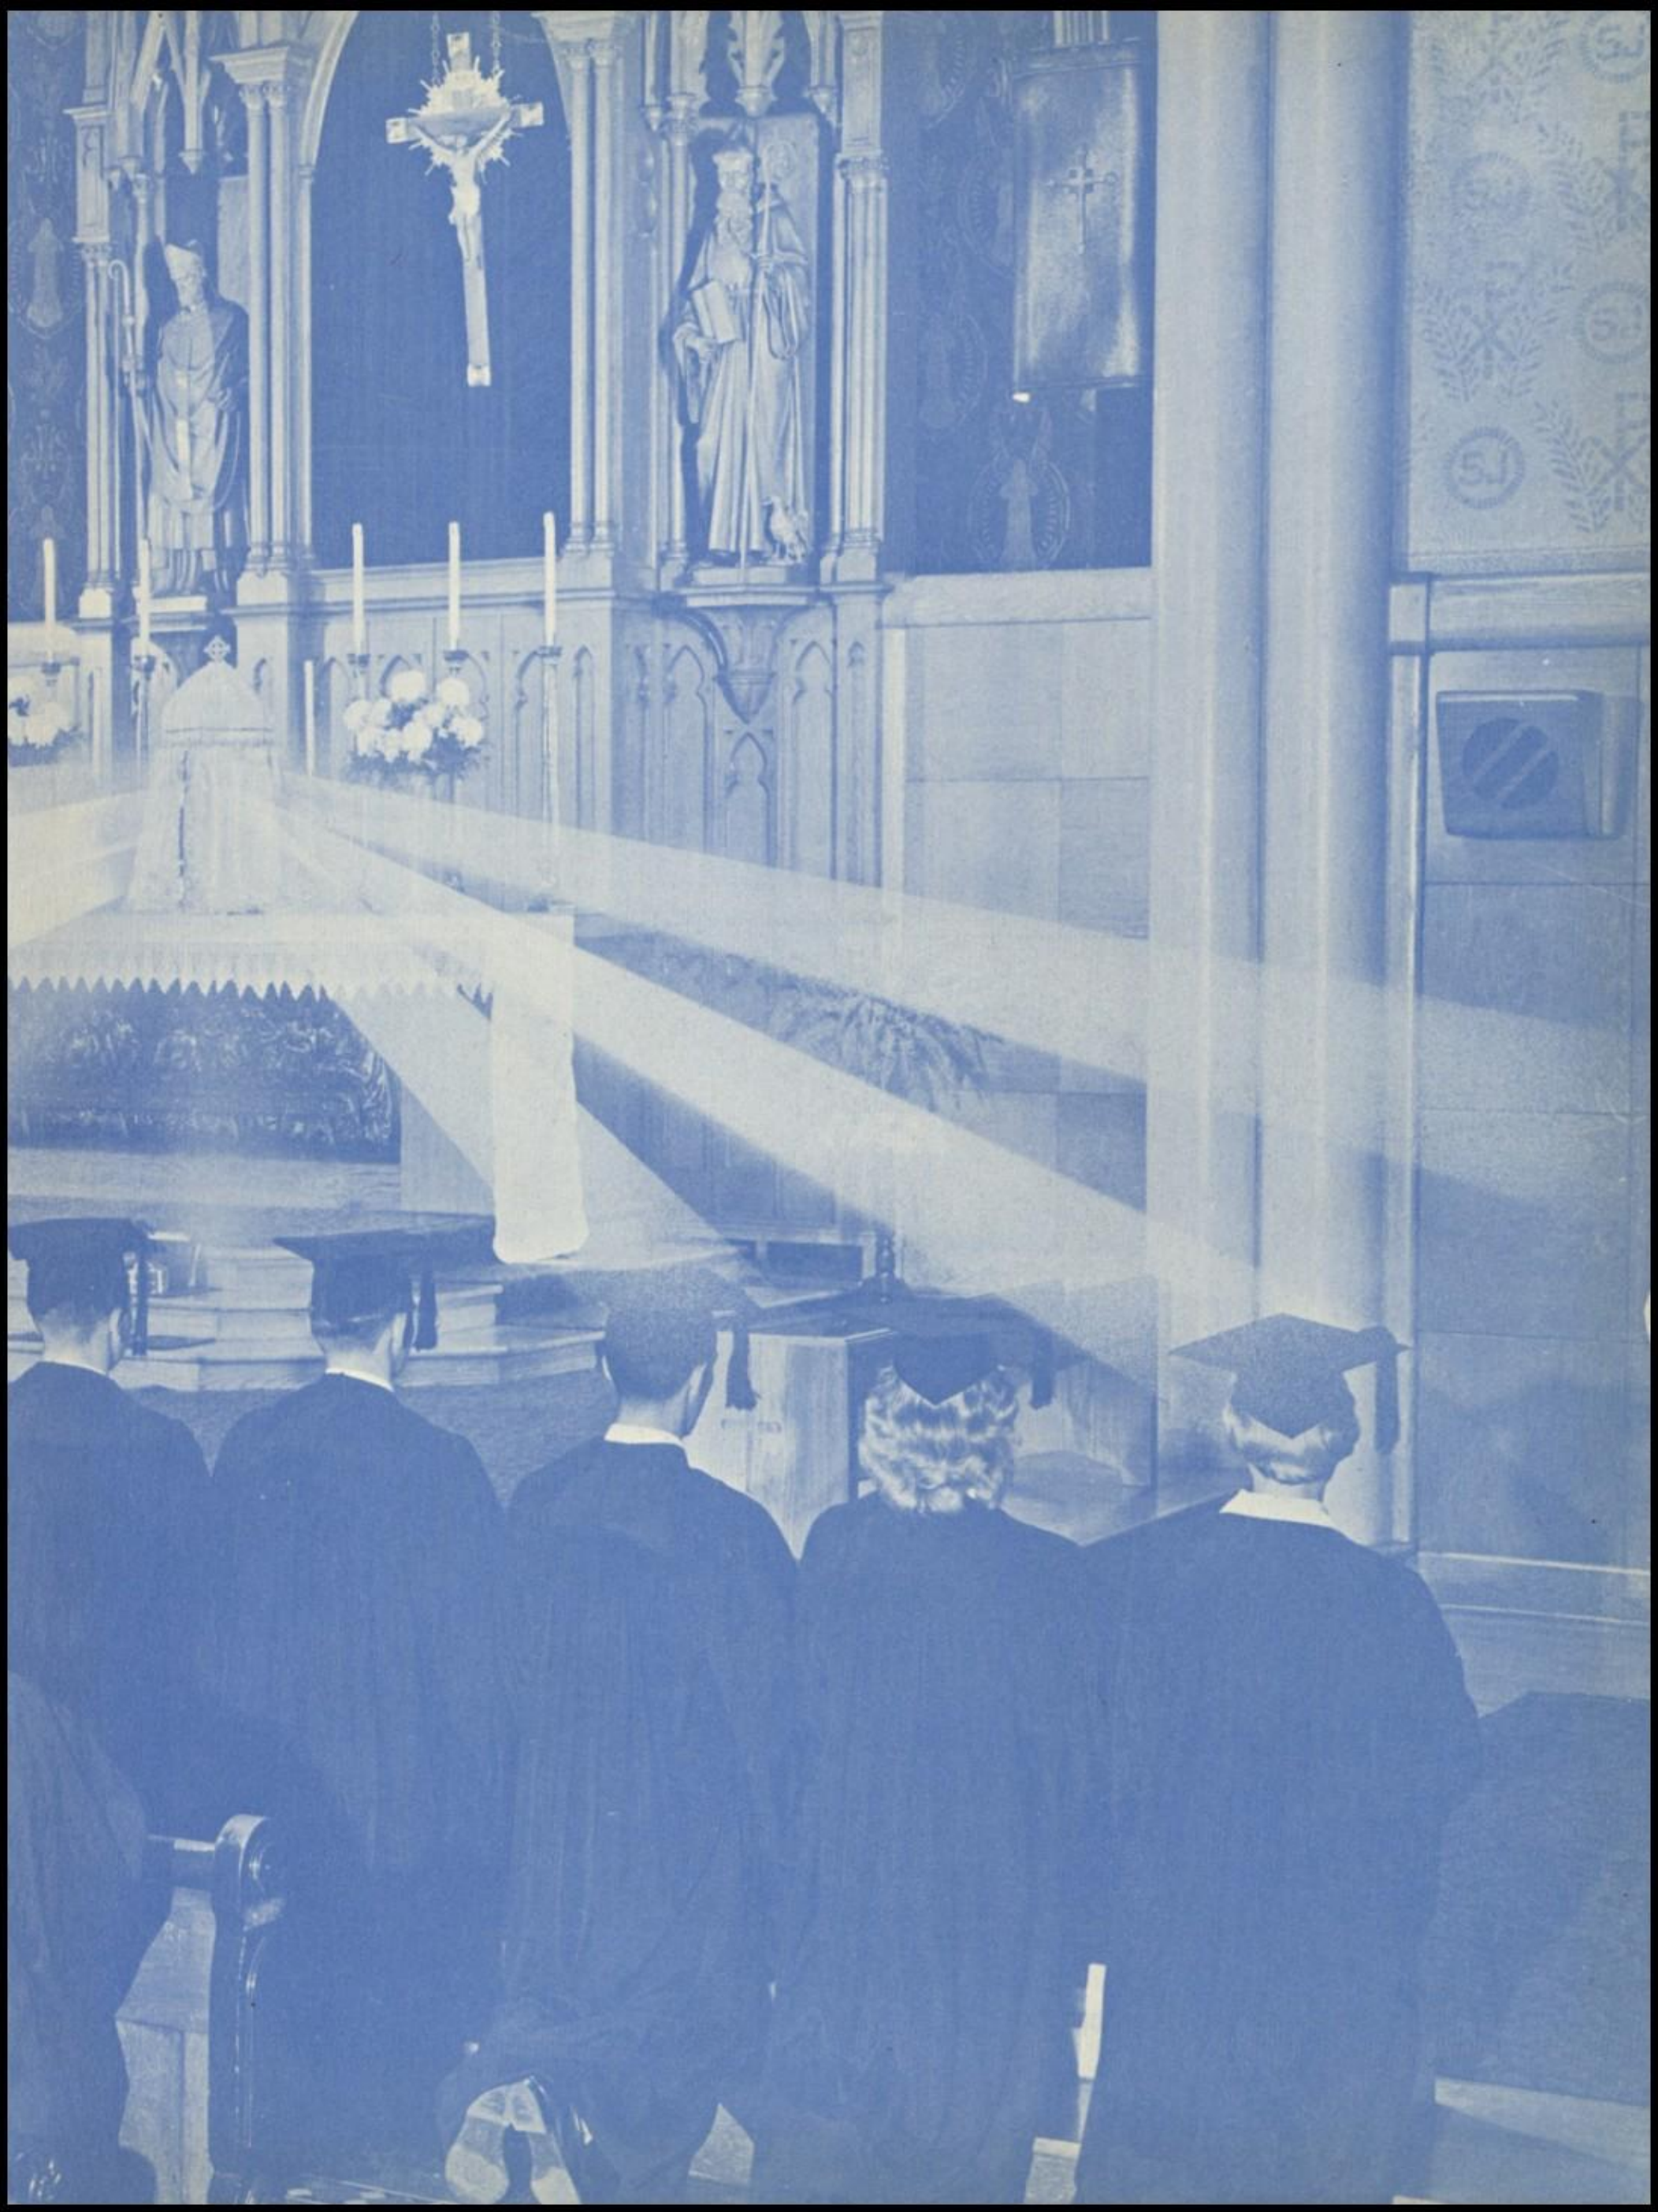
HAIL MARY



In the beginning . . .

Darkness covered the face of the earth . . .

And God Said, . . .

FOREWORD

The doors to the unknown open: we stand on the threshold of adulthood, prepared—each in his own degree—to enter life's foray; to fight on the side of right or wrong; to add to the light or intensify the darkness. A bevy of isms—materialism, communism, atheism, and their counterparts have already established strongholds of untruth upon the world.

Far back in the dim beginnings of existence, God said "Let There Be Light" and light was made. And the earth budded forth and blossomed because of the light. A different, more sinister darkness shrouds the world today; yet to us God's command is no less imperative; for the light of truth is no less needed for a true and vital civilization, than was the light of day for the bursting forth of earth's first sign of visible life.

In the beginning we, too, were in darkness, the darkness of ignorance. Our short stay within these walls has given us the opportunity to change our world of darkness into a glorious world of light. Through our teachers, our principal, and our school spirit, we have had ample opportunity to light our dark world; so that now our light might be carried forth to brighten this world.

As we face the world of an adult, we realize that this new road of our lives will be darker and more dangerous than the one we have just traveled. It is for this reason that we turn to that beautiful "Lady of Light and Grace"—Our Lady of Fatima—who has done so much to warn and turn her beloved, errant children away from the ruins of darkness and deceit that dull and blind the minds and hearts that are the very core of our civilization. May we, through her untiring aid, advance with confidence until our light has blossomed into prosperity, peace, and sanctity for us, and for the world in which we must take our appointed places.

LIGHT."

THE SENIOR CLASS

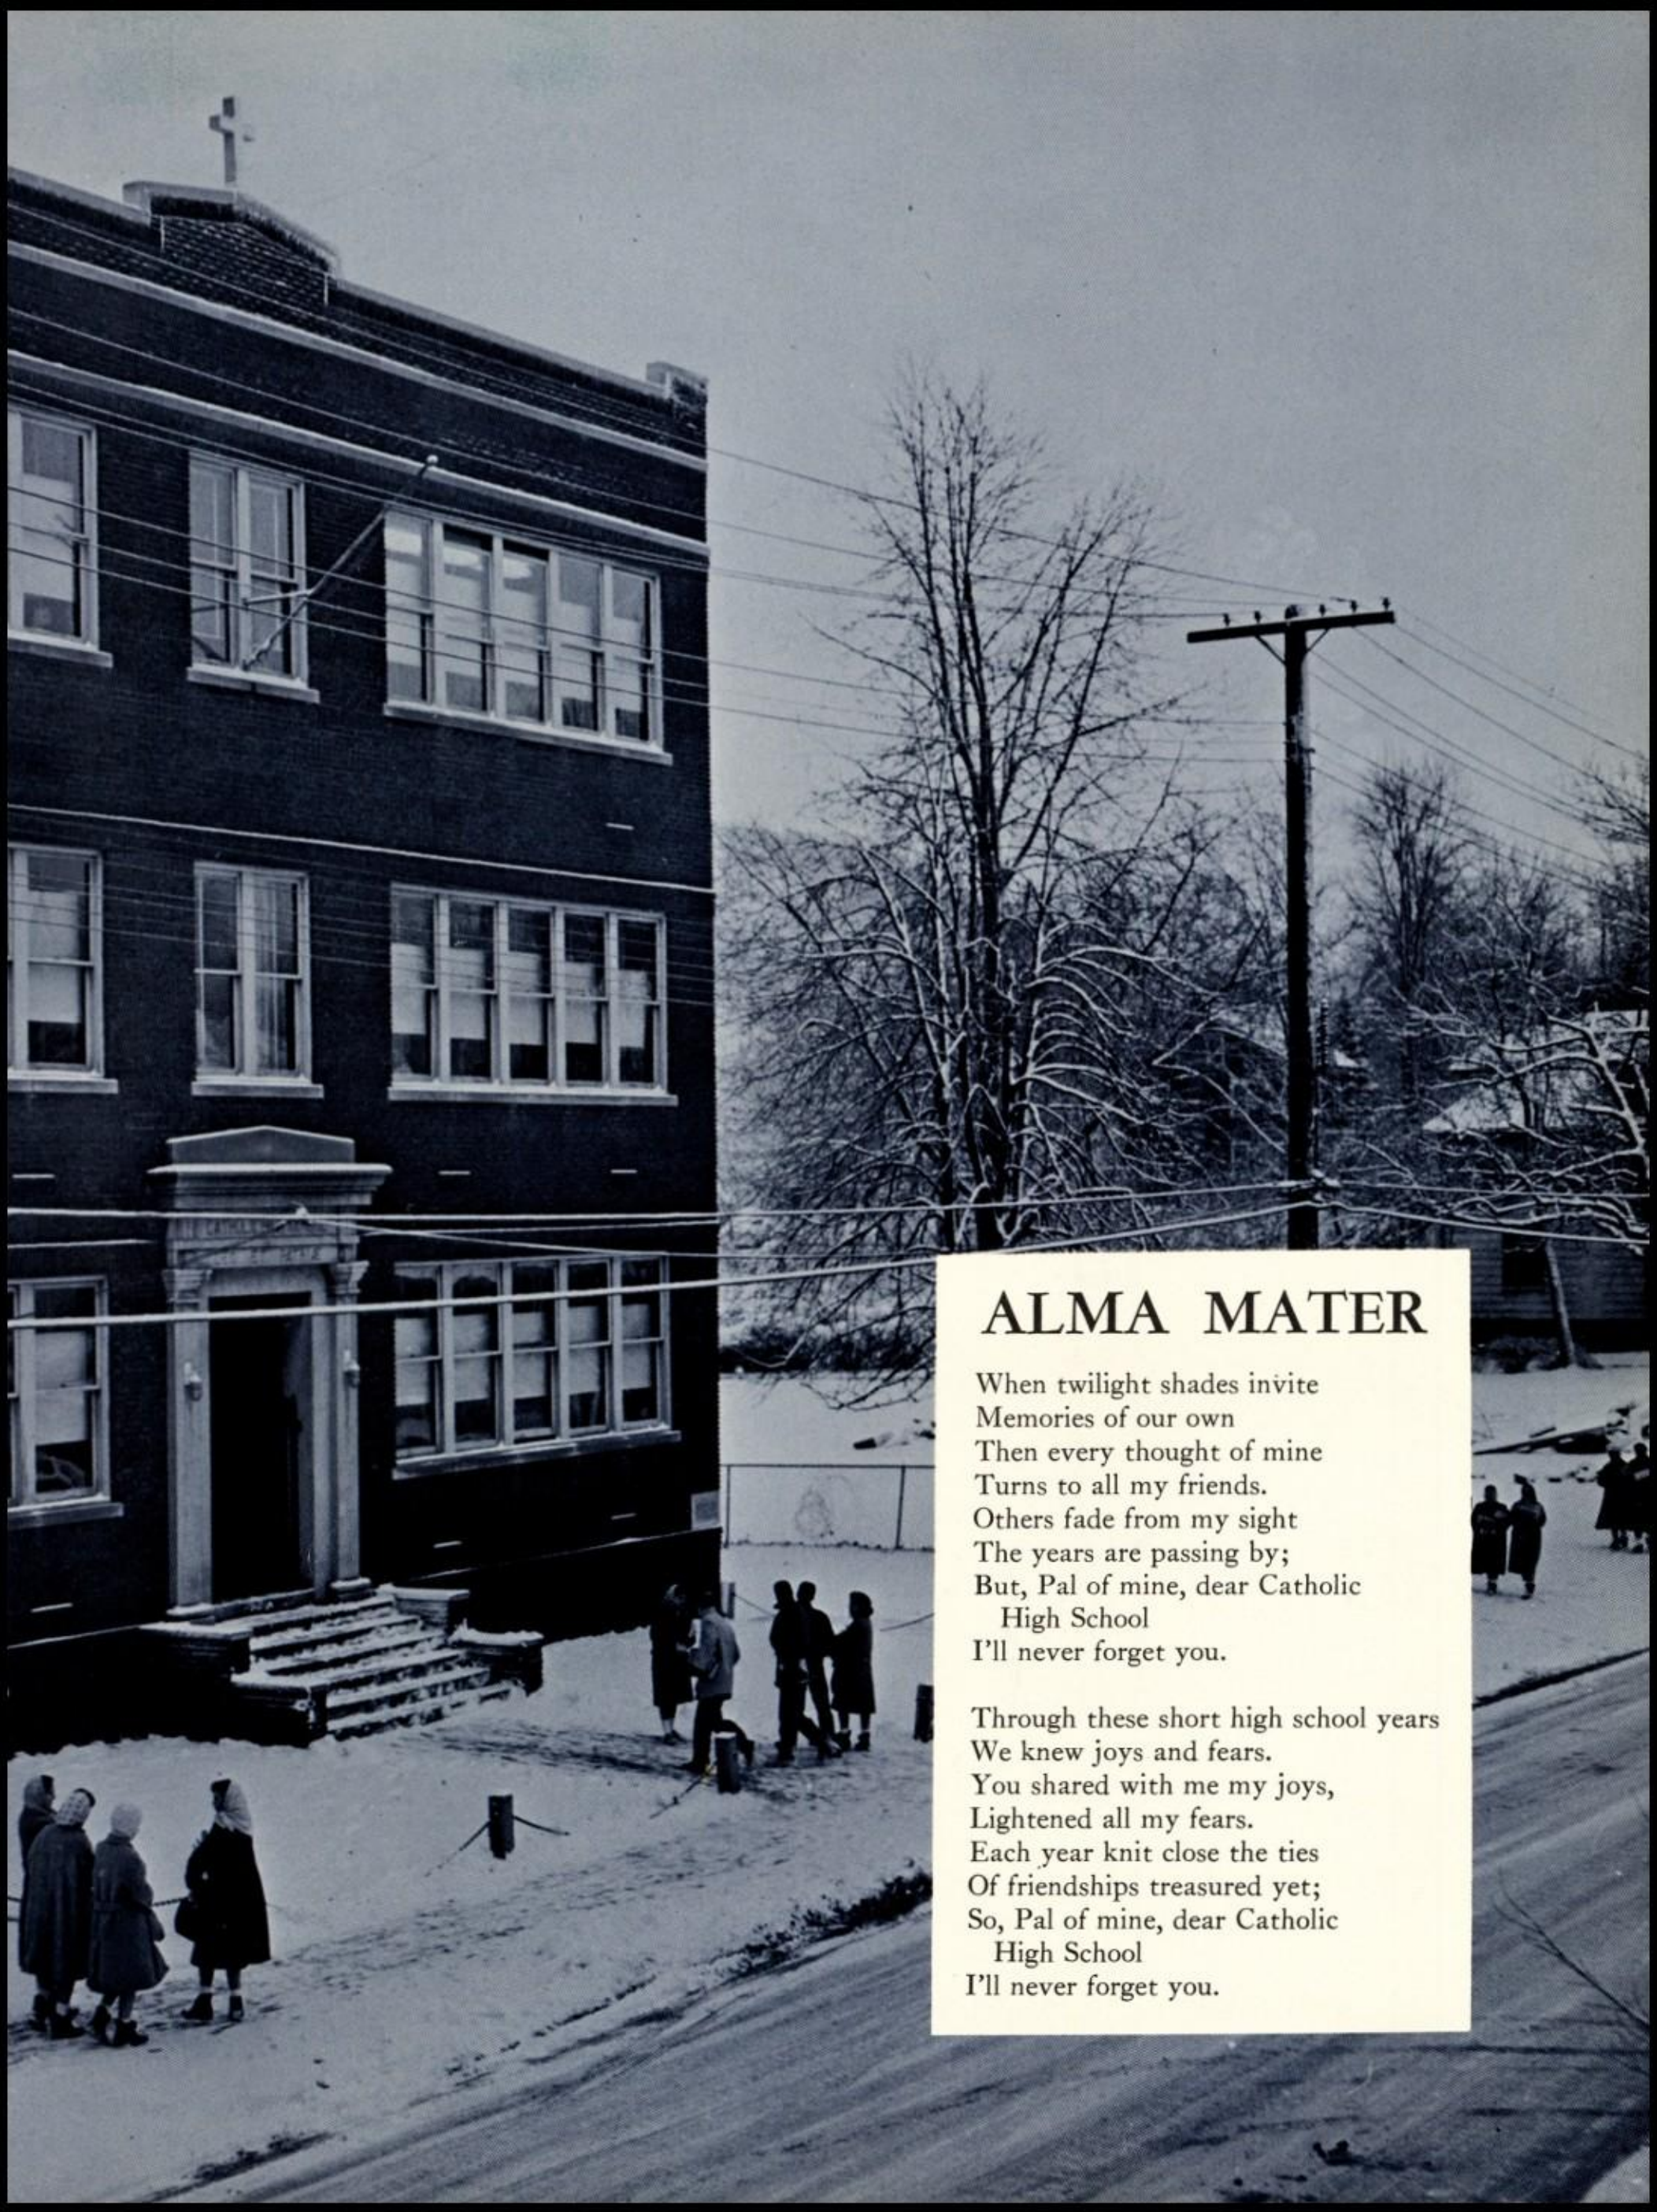
CENTRAL CATHOLIC
HIGH SCHOOL

JOHNSTOWN, PENNSYLVANIA

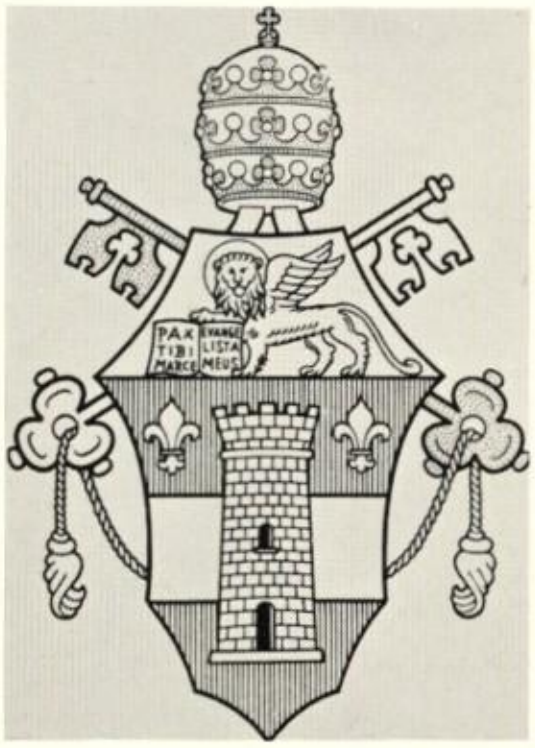


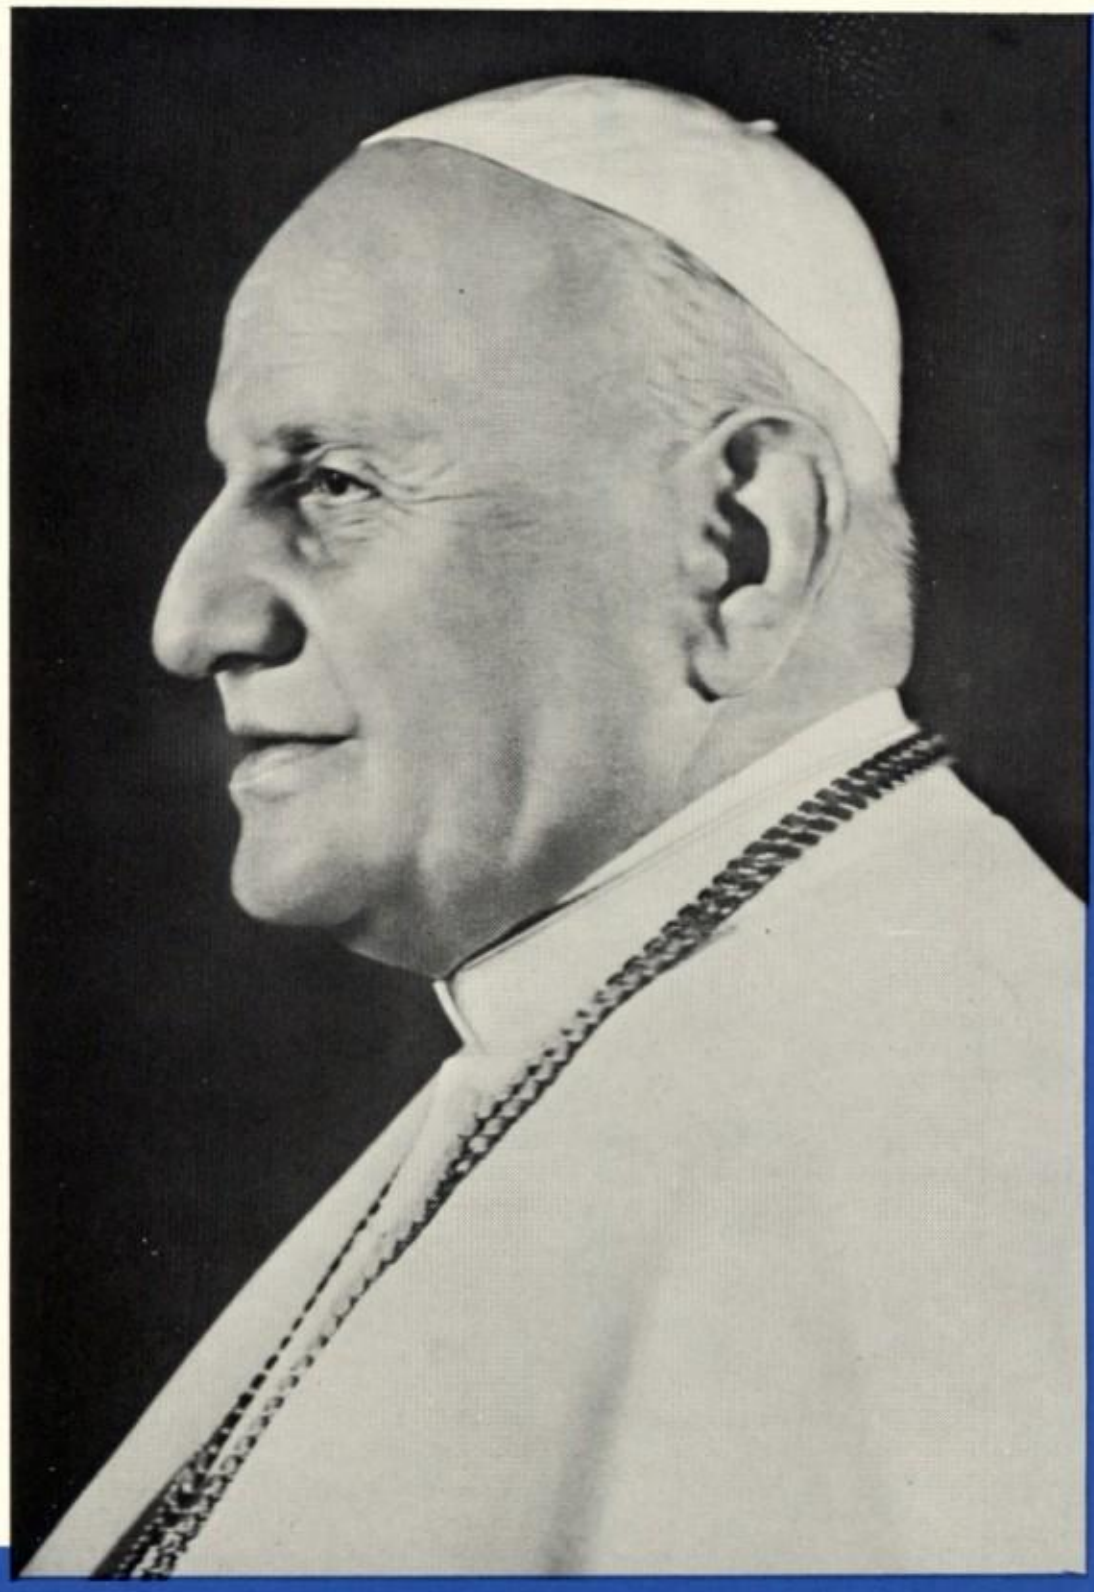
ALMA MATER

When twilight shades invite
Memories of our own
Then every thought of mine
Turns to all my friends.
Others fade from my sight
The years are passing by;
But, Pal of mine, dear Catholic
High School
I'll never forget you.

Through these short high school years
We knew joys and fears.
You shared with me my joys,
Lightened all my fears.
Each year knit close the ties
Of friendships treasured yet;
So, Pal of mine, dear Catholic
High School
I'll never forget you.

HIS HOLINESS
POPE JOHN XXIII

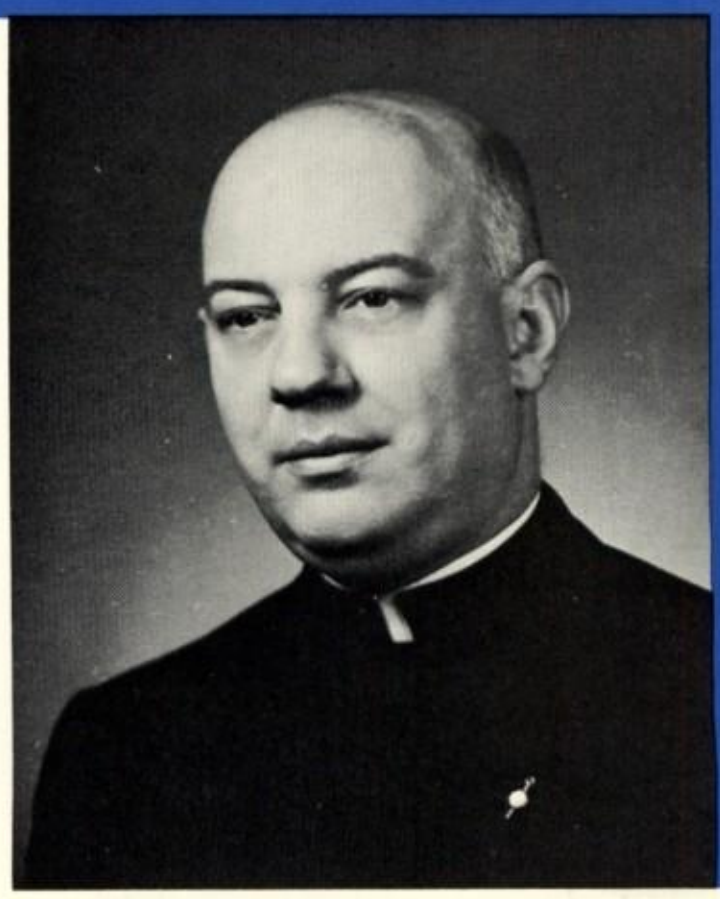




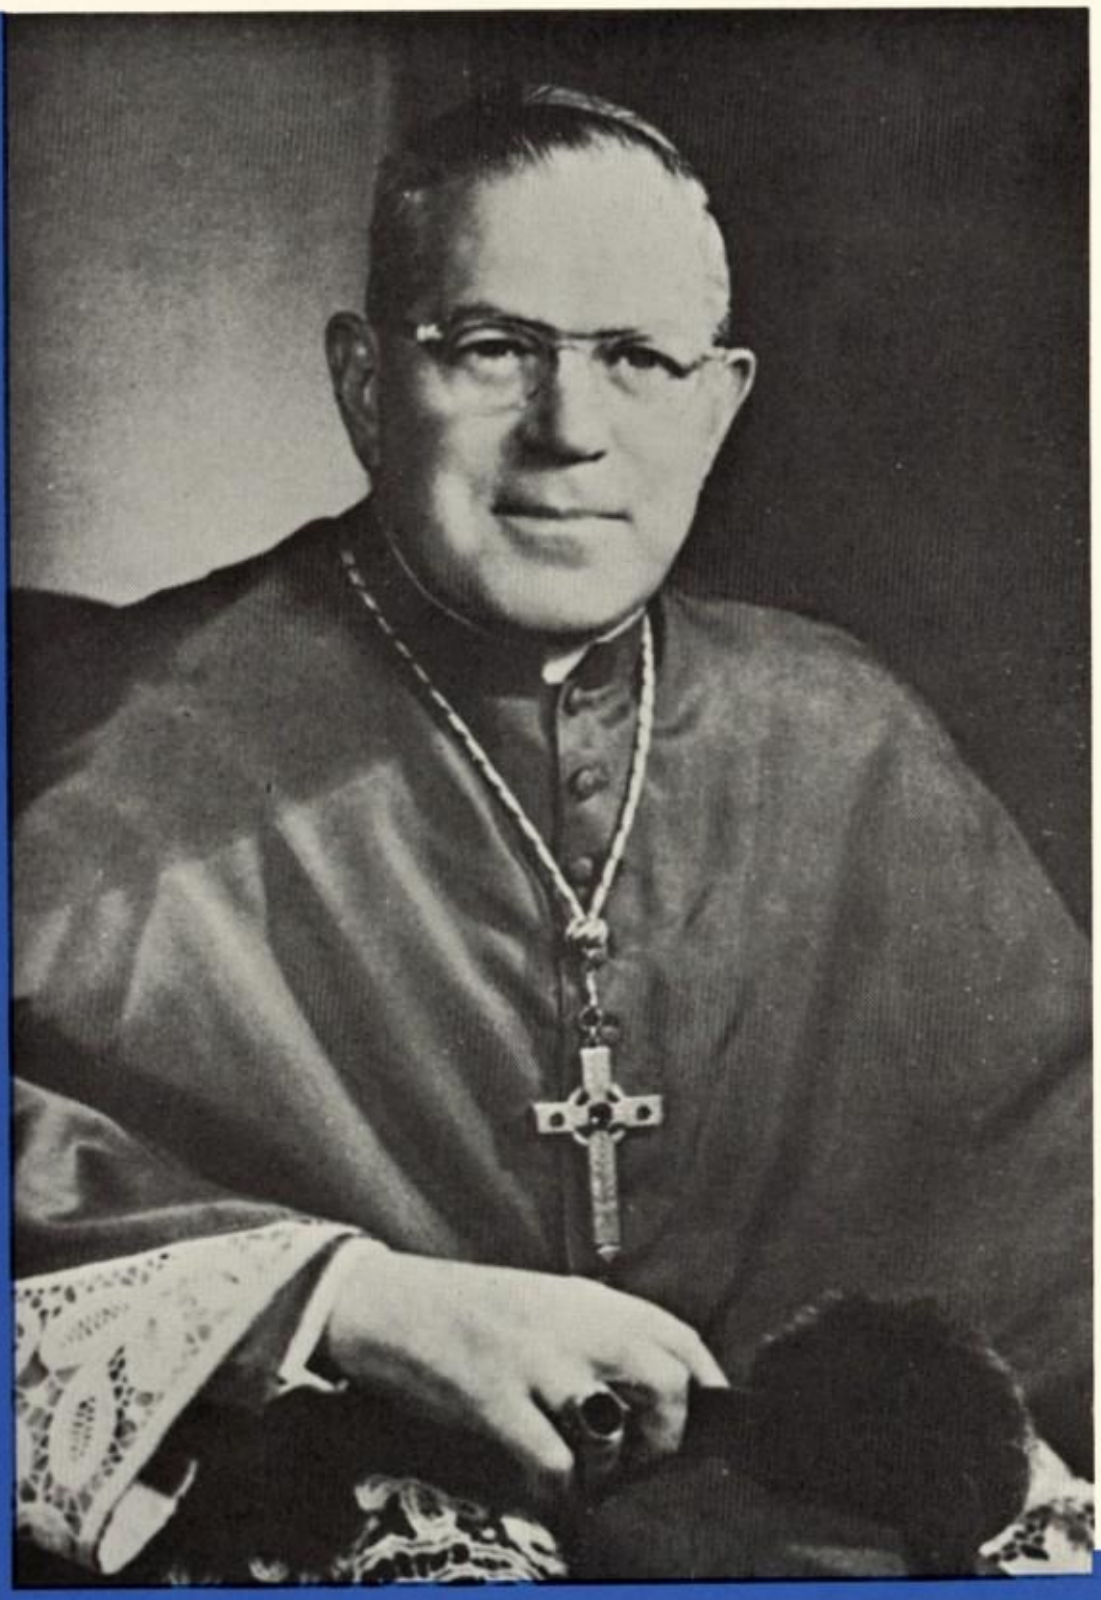
ADMINISTRATION

Christ is the light of the world, the guiding beacon of this graduating class. So, too, is His representative on earth, His Holiness, Pope John XXIII, whom we appreciate and thank.

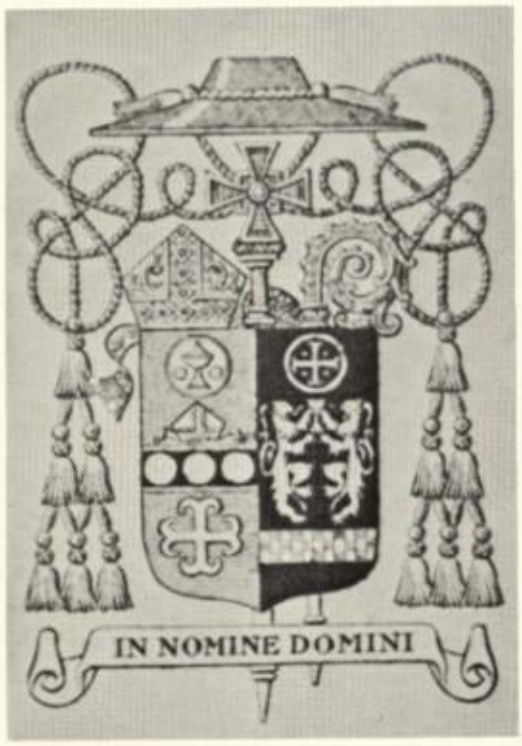
We are also very grateful to Father Linford F. Greinader, our Principal, who has given us unlimited opportunities in Catholic education, character training, and full high school life.

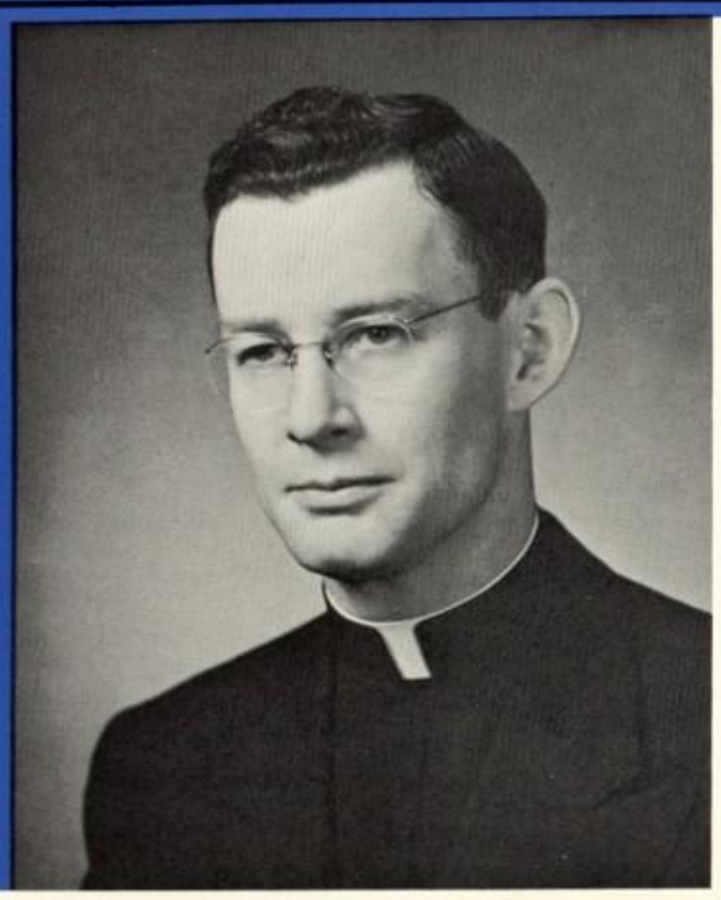


REVEREND LINFORD F. GREINADER,
PRINCIPAL



HIS EXCELLENCY HOWARD J. CARROLL, D.D.





A light closer to us was His Excellency, Howard Joseph Carroll, D.D., Bishop of the Altoona-Johnstown diocese. To him we also give heartfelt thanks for making our Catholic education possible.

Lastly, we thank Father Faber J. Maloy for having helped us in so many ways. Though we wish he were still with us, we congratulate him on his recent promotion and pray that he may always achieve success.

REVEREND FABER J. MALLOY

Principal of J C H S — Rev. Linford F. Greinader

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

In the very first book of Sacred Scripture, we read that God said, "Let there be light, and light was made." The first chapter of St. John's Gospel narrative also mentions light, "The light which shineth in the darkness, and the darkness did not comprehend it. This was the Light which enlightens every man who comes into this world." There was a difference between those two illuminations: one was the material light which brightens the created world; the other is the Eternal Light, the Son of God, Light with a capital L, which enlightens the minds and hearts and souls of men.

Education is often compared to light, for it illuminates human minds by dispelling the darkness of ignorance. There are two kinds of education also: a natural type, which develops human beings along material lines; and a spiritual kind, which trains every human faculty, above all, the soul. This latter type is Education with a capital E, because it is permeated by that "true Light which enlightens every man who comes into this world."

This is the type of education to which you have been exposed for four years. Its purpose has been to make you into the light of the world. Remember the function of that light, as explained by our Divine Lord, "Let your light shine before men that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father in heaven."

STUDENT COUNCIL

Louis holds the attention of all as he addresses the student body over the P. A. system. With him are other members of the Student Council: Susanne Karcher, Gertrude Prokop, Charles Flaugh, Margaret Griffith, and William Zimmerman.

Planning to enact a new project, these members of the Student Council are consulting the calendar with their moderator, Sister Stella Marie. Eugene Werner, James Havas, Claudine Fyock, Barbara Golian, and Mary Maher will be working on this project.

It is evident that a good spirit prevails between Father and the officers of the Student Council as they talk here: Father Greinader, Principal: Denis Grady, President; Benjamin Novak, Vice-President; Kathleen Dailey, Treasurer; and Mary Jane Verbiar, Secretary.

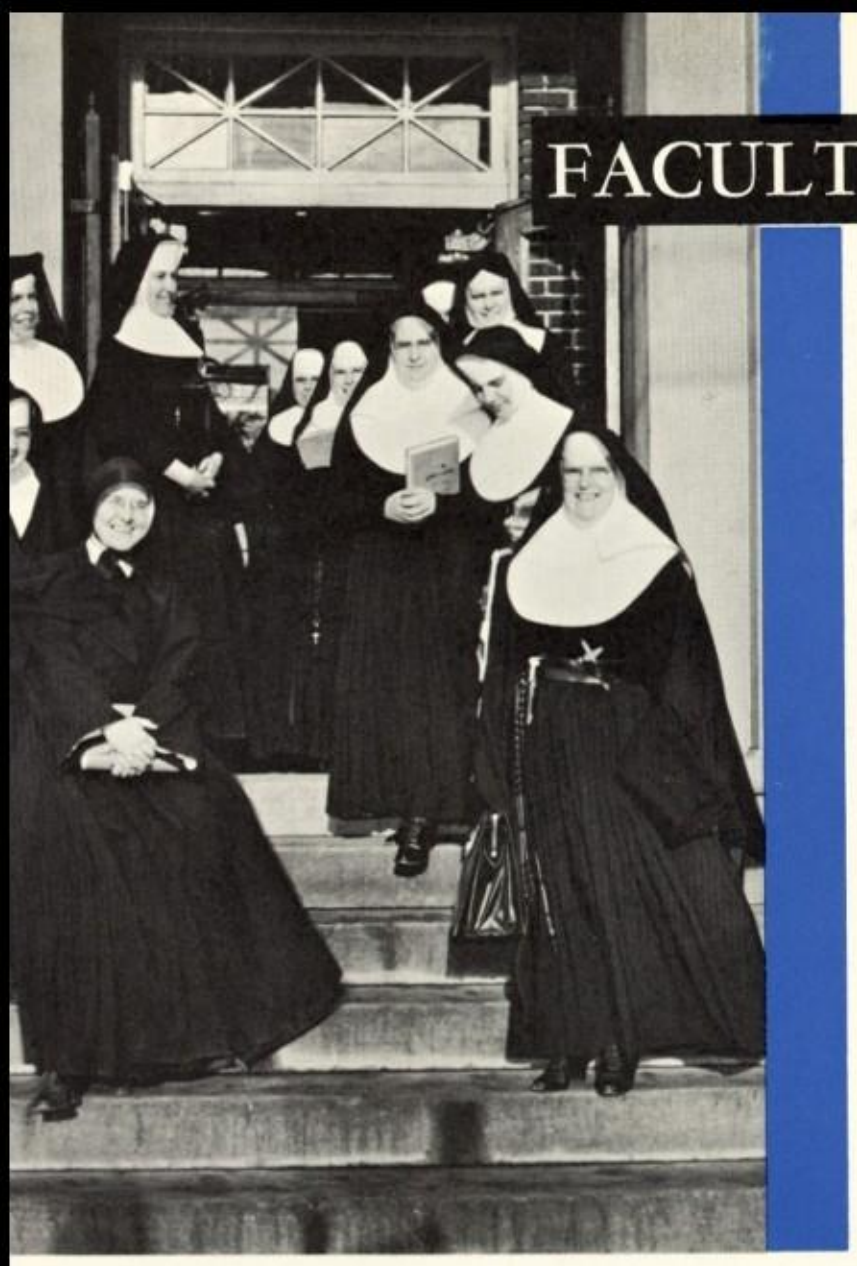
FACULTY 1959-1960



It is Friday afternoon, and believe it or not, these Sisters are still smiling as they look forward to a nice, relaxing weekend at their convents.

To you who labor in the Light of Christ to educate and prepare us, we are deeply grateful. You have lighted the way; now we must follow filled with the spirit of knowledge and the grace of God.

CLASSES

Four years ago we entered Johnstown Catholic—young, simple, desiring nothing great out of life, and not expecting to put too much into it. In the gentle glow of candle-like flame that education had already sparked, we saw ourselves and our own interests reflected quite plainly. As time allowed us to mature both physically and spiritually, we began to realize that there existed in the circle of activity about us, people whom God had made dependent upon us for light; people who needed the cold, unused wicks of their souls kindled and set aflame.

We have been most fortunate to have instructors who put their devotion above their personal life. It is they who have given us sound principles as building blocks to use in constructing our lives. Each year was a spark added to the candle of the Christ-minded education, which must illumine with warmth and understanding these constructing principles; and whose out-stretched rays must guide others as we have been so fortunately guided.

Here at Johnstown Catholic High, young girls and boys are to do their part in dispelling the cloudy darkness of evil and ignorance that threatens to blanket out the light of God's truth. May Christ give to each class; to each student; the unending, undying flame of His own love and grace from which their candles must necessarily be kindled.

LEADING LIGHTS in CLASS of 1960

"Ladies first," says 102 President, Gary Ripple to Nancy Sunchick, Secretary; as she leads the way down the hall to start a typical school day at JCHS. Following are: Albert Jerva, Vice-president; and Jim Kopriva, Treasurer.

A nice walk in the noon air is appreciated by these 103 officers: Pat Meagher, President; Virginia Povich, Vice-president; Joan Stringent, Secretary; and Marjorie Weaver, Treasurer.

The officers of 105 seem to be discussing plans for their next class meeting. Giving their contributions are: Charles Kasper, Treasurer; Paul Brandle, President; Dave Finley, Vice-president; and Rosemary Patcher, Secretary.

John Roddy, President of 200, initiates a new idea for class activities. Helping in the planning are: Marcianne Popchack, Secretary; Steve Bovino, Vice-president; and Joyce Ascher, Treasurer.

Unity is needed in the nation, the school, and also the home room. This is where our home room officers step into the picture. It is their duty to enable the home room to work as one functioning unit, by accepting and fulfilling the various responsibilities implied by these offices.

These home-room officers from 201 discuss their ideas on how to prevent congestion in the halls at change of classes. Demonstrating the wrong way to solve the problem are: George Boes, Vice-president; Nancy Canini, Treasurer; William Zimmerman, President; and Mary Theresa DuBreucq, Secretary.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is a nation-wide organization, whose members must fulfill and maintain definite requisites of character, leadership, scholarship, and service. The purpose of the Society is to sponsor and support activities which contribute to the advancement of the school and community, primarily in intellectual standards.

Members of the recently formed Aquinian Cadets must exhibit, among other qualities, a marked efficiency rating to qualify for membership. The Aquinian Cadets, or Efficiency Honor Society, works hand in hand with the Honor Society under the same officers.

Discussing future prospects for the Society are the officers: Charles Flaugh, Vice-President; David Coghe, President; Linda Karas, Secretary; and James Havas, Treasurer.

Proudly reflecting the merits of the keystone emblem are the members of the National Honor Society: B. Golian, S. Karcher, M. L. Glavach, R. Cowan, M. J. Verbiar, L. Karas, B. Govekar, M. Simler, J. Havas, C. Flaugh, D. Grady, and E. M. Slivosky.

"Navy Blue Would Be Nice." These NHS members design the blazers which they hope to obtain through their scholarship merits.

STUDIES

From the first spark of human history to the glowing hope of future advancement, man has been unlocking the secrets of the universe, one by one. The fight against the elements has not been easy; it has been piece by piece combat, advancing an inch today, a foot tomorrow. As the original inertia was overcome, this advancement gained momentum, until today there is an increasing need for specialists and learned scholars in all fields.

The intellect, with all its marvelous workings, is one of God's gifts to man which sets him above all other creatures. We at JCHS have been taught to use our intellect to its fullest capacity, to reason and think as mature adults and Christians. The studies taken during these past four years have been preparation for the future, the fuel which is to burn in our lamps. It now remains for us to increase this fuel. A talent given by God is not to be wasted; we must keep the lamp of knowledge continuously burning.

This experiment dealing with the coefficient of expansion of metals must be intriguing, judging from the expressions on the faces of these Physics students. They present a picture of a typical lab group in the midst of an experiment.

That fellow with all his bones showing must be the most popular boy in school. He is surrounded by his Physiology fan club. Linda Karas is shaking hands with her buddy while the other girls give him the once over.

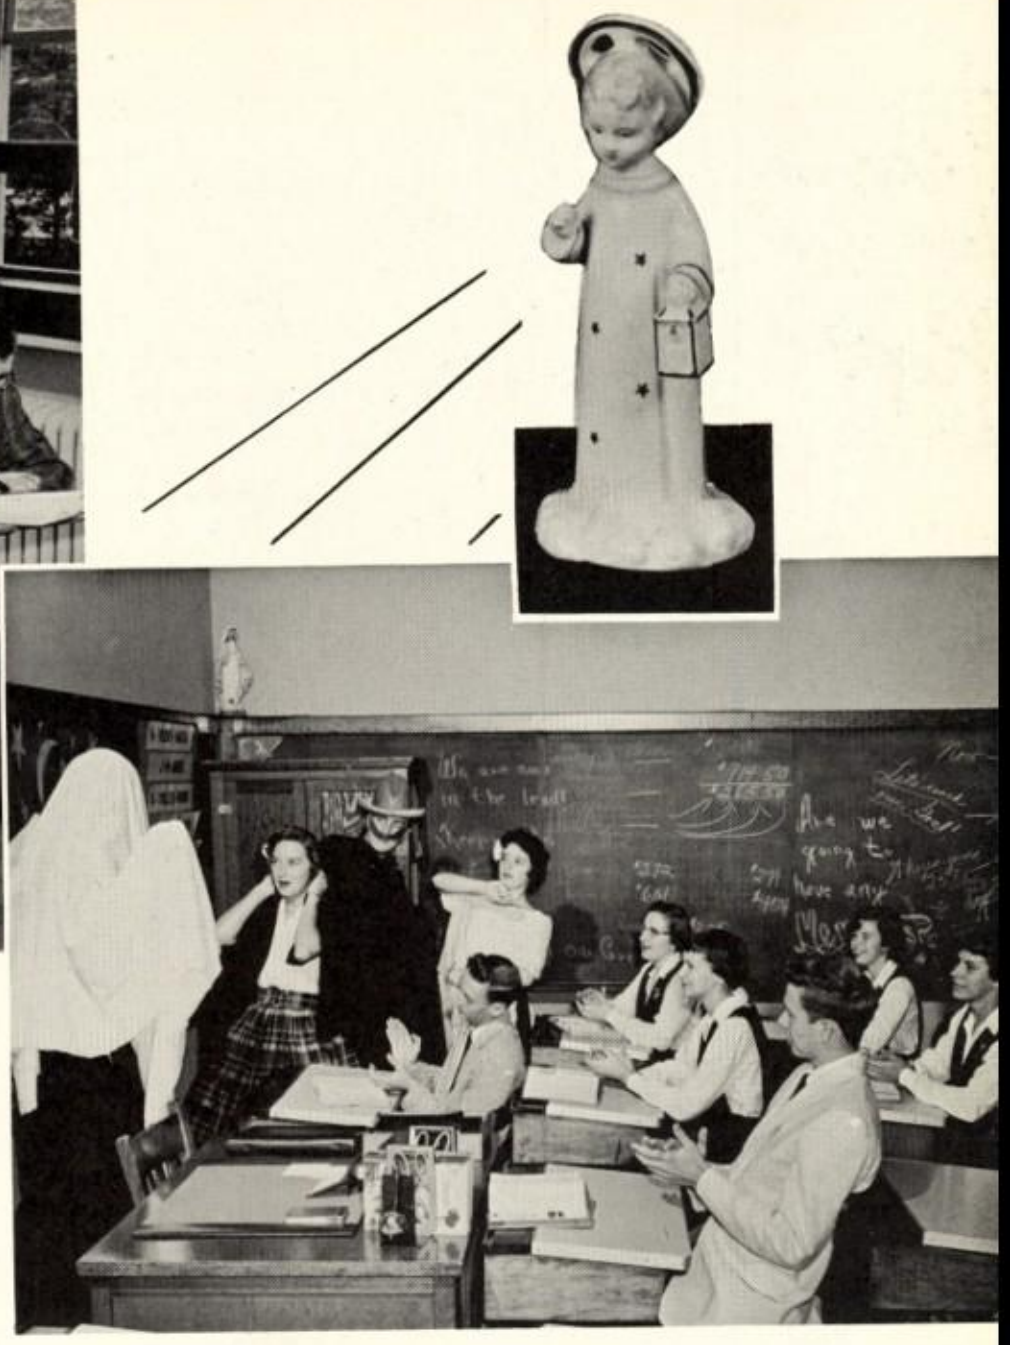
SENIOR STUDIES

Was ist das? Dave points out to Emilie, Jim, and Tom some of the historic places and cities on the German maps. The rest of the German class are interested spectators.

Pat draws attention to some interesting facts on the map depicting the voyage of Aeneas to Mary, Chuck, Stephanie, Judy, and Audrey. The Aeneid is the basic study of the Latin III class. The poem must have some amusing incidents judging from the smile on Gerry's face.

Sylvia Salem tests her skill in pronunciation by reading a passage from Jules Verne's "Around the World in Eighty Days." The other members of the French class follow her attentively.



The Ghost of Cobblestone Point appears to have Franny, Ron, and Carol thoroughly frightened. However, the members of the Spanish class watching the play seem to be amused by it all. Incidently, the fellow under the sheet is John Stofa.

Sister Madeleine and Rosemary are explaining the importance of graphs to the class. The problem that seems to be stumping the students is a quadratic concerning the rise and fall of a rocket.

Members of the Trigonometry class study the blueprints of the new high school and discuss the vital part that trig played in the drawing up of the plans. Why so solemn? ? ? (Feeling bad because you won't get into the new building?)

Eugene Riek lines up the next slide to be used by Mike Foran. They are showing models of the Shakespearean Stage.

Occasionally Father Lynch tries to introduce the lighter side in order to make his religion classes more interesting.

LIGHT

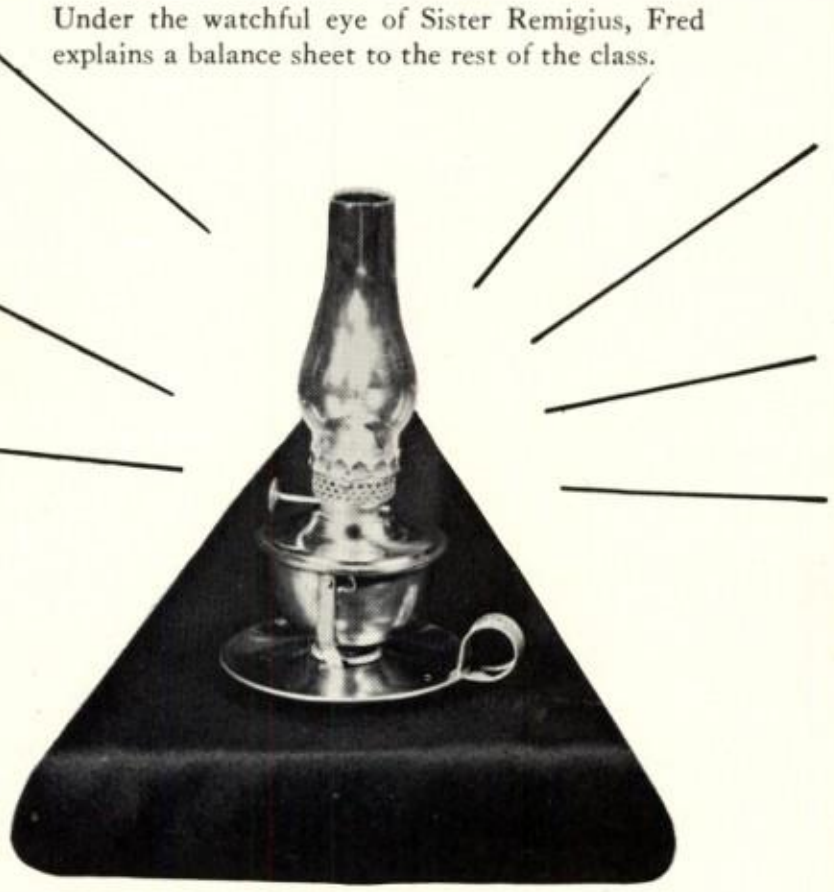
Soccer keeps these physical education students on their toes as they try to determine where Andy's kick will propel the ball.

Sister Rose Edward, in her usual pleasant and willing manner, helps Ed and Pat interpret the results of their National Merit Scholarship Tests.

The male Senior Science students seem to be absorbed in Dave's instructions, but the girls seem to be more interested in Dave.

BURNING

Under the watchful eye of Sister Remigius, Fred explains a balance sheet to the rest of the class.



Mr. Leslie reveals the mystery of supply and demand to Beverly, Jim, Joseph, Mike, and Ed.

It may look like Greek to us, but shorthand is as familiar as English to these future secretaries.

We wonder—are Gerrie and Elaine both out of typing paper? Or is this assignment a little bit complicated?

the MIDNIGHT OIL

These girls prove that teamwork is the essence of efficiency. Aided by Sister Rosalia, Ginny and Rose Ann search for the necessary information, the typists record it, and then turn it over to Mary Jane and Peggy who publish it.

SENIOR STUDIES

The art students hopefully compare their drawings to the model. Have patience, class! Just think Rembrandt may have begun like this.

ACTIVITIES

During our high school years we have had many opportunities to appear in the spotlight of a variety of extracurricular activities.

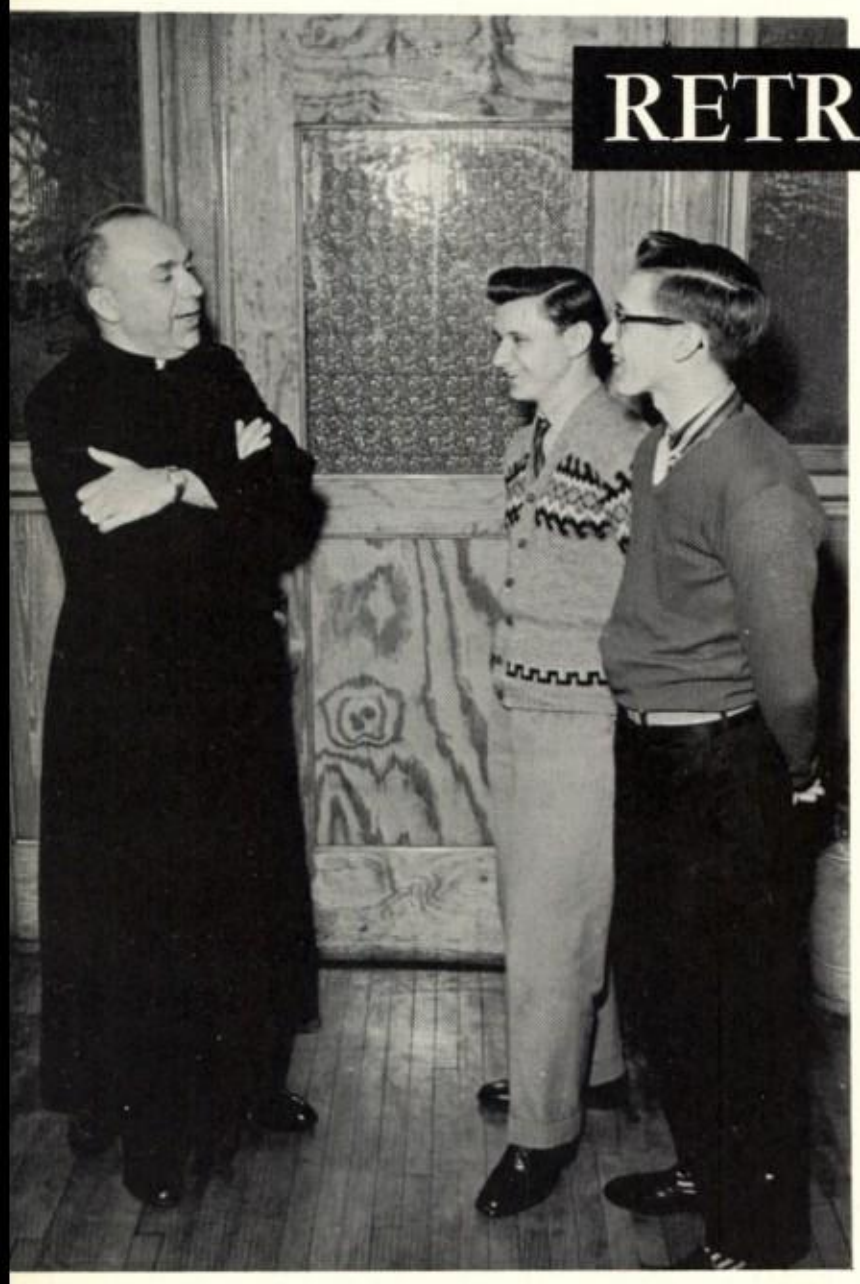
This facet of the curriculum, as an intellectual and creative stimulant, adds zest and interest to a student's every day round of studies. Development of personality, of talents, and of both social consciousness and confidence have lately been attributed their deserved place of importance in education. "In the Spotlight" of religious, forensic, literary, and scientific activities, are the all-embracing social events. Through them the student acquires a "final polish" that prepares him to assume quite naturally a position in the world's limelight. Each club or organization exists, too, because in it we see an opportunity to share our light with others in a combined striving for the achievement of a common goal. Here, also, enters the satisfying of the individual's need for self-expression and the awakening of the civic responsibility of service to others.

Glory,

Leading a procession from the high altar are the thurifer, James Havas, the crossbearer, Robert Sapita, and acolytes Bernard Koval and John Roddy. Following in an air of reverence are: Jacob Hritz, James Gall, Thomas Gall, Leonard Koch, Edward Poplinski, George Gelles, Daniel Duffy, Louis Sebastian, Lawrence Gregorchik, and Robert Statnick.

RETREAT

Days of refuge from the routine of our daily lives to permit a serious "appraisal of the soul" is a likely decription of the Senior-Junior Retreat. The Senior Servers, who assist at services in their various parishes, served at Mass and Benediction during Retreat and at adoration of the Most Blessed Sacrament during the day.



Along with the serious side of our retreat Father Davis discusses the lighter side of it with Ihor Sirko and John Antonini.

SODALITY

From what better source can a high school girl seek spiritual guidance than from the "Queen of Virgins" . . . the Mother of Christ! What better way to reach our "Mother of Good Counsel" than through active participation in the Sodality, a society dedicated to increase devotion to the Blessed Mother!

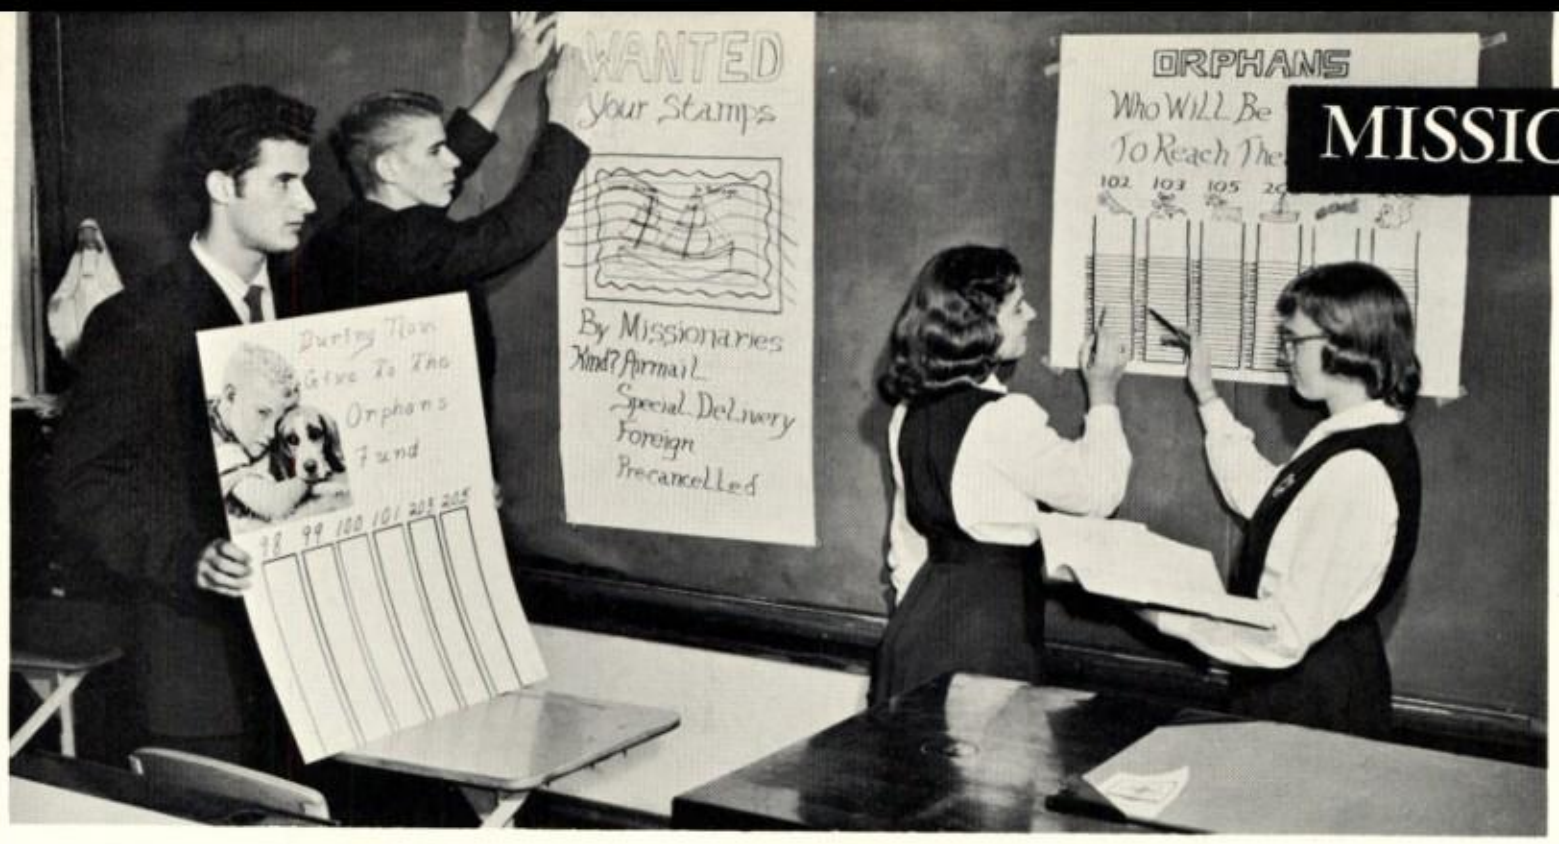
Sodalists combine social activity with spiritual veneration of Mary in preparing to play their destined roles in a world that can place many obstacles in the path leading to model Catholic womanhood.

Sodality Prefects, Francine Zahornek and Mary Jane Verbiar ask success for a contemplated sodality project with a recitation of the Memorare before a statue of the Blessed Mother.

Her Beauty Is Like a Heavenly LIGHT, Her Graces a Diadem of Stars

Sodality officers of Section A look through pamphlets in a search for appropriate ideas for the next scheduled meeting. The officers shown are Perpetua Canary, Secretary; Virginia Povich, Vice-president; Mary Jane Verbiar, Prefect; and Barbara Conway, Treasurer.

Moderator Sister Mary Clovis and Section B officers: Oksana Sirko, Vice-prefect; Nancy Smear, Treasurer; Francine Zahornek, Prefect; and Mary Maher, Secretary discuss reports regarding the financing of subscriptions of truth publications sent to less fortunate youths in foreign countries.



MISSION CLUB

The workers in the Mission Club designed these posters to remind their friends to be generous. Arranging them are: Andrew Rushin, James Rother, Carol Spisak, and Barbara Fisher.

LIBRARY CLUB

To encourage good reading through the efficient handling of our library is the purpose of the Library Club at JCHS. The club, composed of both boys and girls, is always ready to assist both faculty and students in their use of the library.

Whether it be a reference to the Civil War or the latest book of space travel, we can be sure that at a moment's notice Sister Ferdinand or one of her able librarians will be at our assistance with a smile.

These girls of the Library Club appear pleased with their work on the bulletin board. It is a hint for locating books more speedily. Looking it over are: Mary Elyse Veigle, Bonnie Bantley, Mary Jane Verbiar, Barbara Bachick, and Barbara Govekar.

SCIENCE CLUB

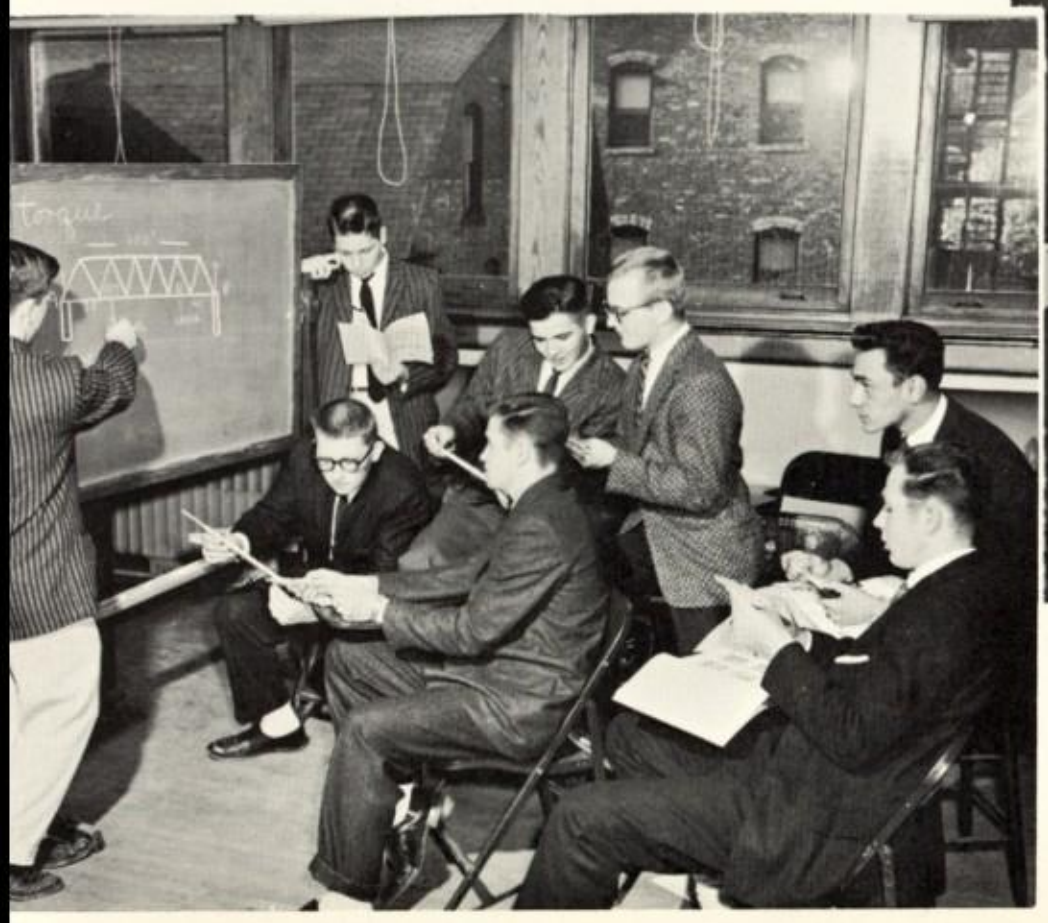
In order to meet the demand for qualified scientists, the Science Club, under the guiding hand of Sister Germaine, works to awaken latent abilities and to perfect techniques so that the student will have a good foundation for his future career as a scientist.

Shedding light on the scientific world with various experiments are Robert Tkac, Frank Lucia, Thomas Kane, Raymond Lacovic, Ronald Mizak, James Kopriva, and Andrew Hudacek; ably assisted by Barbara Fisher, Antoinette Carino, and Linda Karas.

JETS

The JETS,. Junior Engineering Technical Society, is sponsored locally by the National U.S. Radiator Corporation for the purpose of supplementing high schools in educating future engineers. Members find many scholarships available and projects prepared to aid them in attaining these scholarships. The "Jet Pilot," Sister Mary Zachary, S.C., is always ready to help any member with his engineering problems.

David Coghe, Joseph Mabon, Walter Raymond, Mike Foran, George Gelles, Steve Bovino, and John Jenc (all members of the Jets club) are using their trusty slide rules to check John Roddy as he explains the torque that is acting on one end of the bridge.



The odd device that Albert Jerva, Robert Cowan, James Havas, William Zimmerman, and Robert Sapita are earnestly contemplating is an oscilloscope. Be careful, Bob!

Under the supervision of Father Greinader, Sister Mary Claver, R.S.M., and Sister Joseph Marie, C.D.P., our forensic club has made 1960 another very successful year. Spurred on by the many awards already won, and by the hope of winning many more, the forensic club members put in many hours searching for material, memorizing speeches, and perfecting their deliveries.

In forensics we are taught to think and to learn about the current world and national situations and to present accurate commentaries on them, in a short time (extemporaneous declamation). We learn to write and deliver speeches (original declamation). We receive instructions on how to give dramatic and humorous discourses. In oratorical declamation we present a well-known person's speech.

In debate, such topics as the farm problem, foreign aid, labor unions, and education have been used to promote interest in our country's problems.

We agree wholeheartedly with Francis Bacon's words: "Reading maketh a full man, conference a ready man, and writing an exact man."

Materials from the national office are received by Father Greinader in the capacity of his new position as district chairman. The advisors, Sister Joseph Marie and Sister Mary Claver, look over some of the new forms.

A blood tingling oration by Charles Flaugh holds a spellbound audience in suspence. Is it really that gruesome, Dave?

Father Greinader and Sister Joseph Marie are giving their advice to the numerous debators, who are gathered around the library table collecting material for the nearing debate season.

FORENSICS

The officers of the Forensic Club tabulate the returns from a successful forensic meet in our school. They are: Edna May Slivosky, Treasurer; Benjamin Novak, Vice-President; Denis Grady, President; Linda Karas, Secretary; and Philip Keilen, Librarian.

Margaret Griffith, Rita Murillo, and Joyce Wolf gaze with an eye to the future, as they view a past diocesan championship trophy which Denis Grady is presenting to Father Greinader. That's Ben Novak hiding.

THE CRUSHER TIMES

Interested members of the staff visit the print shop of Mr. Werzyn. Francis Maher, Joseph Mabon, and Tim Kelly seem especially interested in the latest edition. (Wonder why Robert Sapita is laughing?)

The Hope of the World Is the LIGHT of Truth

The six Page Editors seem to be enjoying the planning of the next issue of the Crusher Times. They are: Edna May Slivosky, Thomas Kane, Kathleen Sabo, John Lopresti, Sister Mary Paul, R.S.M., Advisor; C. R. Cowan, Editor; and David Coghe.

Phil Pettina, photographer, at the direction of C. R. Cowan, prepares to catch an interesting shot.

The school newspaper—the eyes, ears, and voice of the student body—endeavors to bring to the student readers, as well as the faculty, the latest news of interest. Being the medium by which such news can be gathered, the Crusher Times tries to be an integral part of Catholic High.

The value of the school paper is immeasureable. With St. Francis de Sales as their guide, student staff members report, edit, and prepare the publication. Through this activity they develop a sense of responsibility while improving their literary talent.

This year's editorial staff includes: C. R. Cowan, Editor-in-chief; David Coghe, John Lopresti and Kathleen Sabo, Associate Editors; Edna May Slivosky, Business Manager; and Tim Kelly, Exchange Editor. The beam of the Times is Sister Mary Paul, R.S.M.

Fingers become nimble as Mary Jane Verbiar, Barbara Govekar, Mary Lou Glavach, Marjorie Weaver, and Fred Cosgrove decipher the compositions into readable copy for the printer.

The new issue arrives, and various members of the staff gather together; some to count out the appropriate numbers for the homerooms, and others to excitedly locate their articles and compare them with others.

MEMORIES 1960

To bring to a close the years of fond memory at JCHS, the staff presents a book of lasting "Memories" for you. As these pages unfold, we hope that the many cherished moments of High School days will be awakened once more and will help you relive the happy days spent here. Supervising the publication was Sister M. Coleman.

Dan Duffy, aware of his responsibilities as editor, put many long and sometimes late hours into the making of Memories '60.

This is one of the Saturday afternoon sessions, when the editorial staff met to make plans and iron out difficulties. Working with Sister M. Coleman, Advisor; are: Mary Jane Verbiar, Rosemary Patcher, Mary Lou Glavach, David Coghe, and Dan Duffy, Editor.

John Lopresti and Bob Sapita, student photographers, examine some prints of action shots taken at the games.

Marian and Ernestine, armed with pen and ink, prepare the last set of symbols for this year's book.

HIGHLIGHTS OF FUN . . .

The "Big Five" start off the rally with a bang

The staff members of "Memories" 1960 presented a whimsical musical, "South Osborne Street," which was to inspire their fellow seniors to venture out and sell $25 worth of patrons. This rally was typical of those held this year.

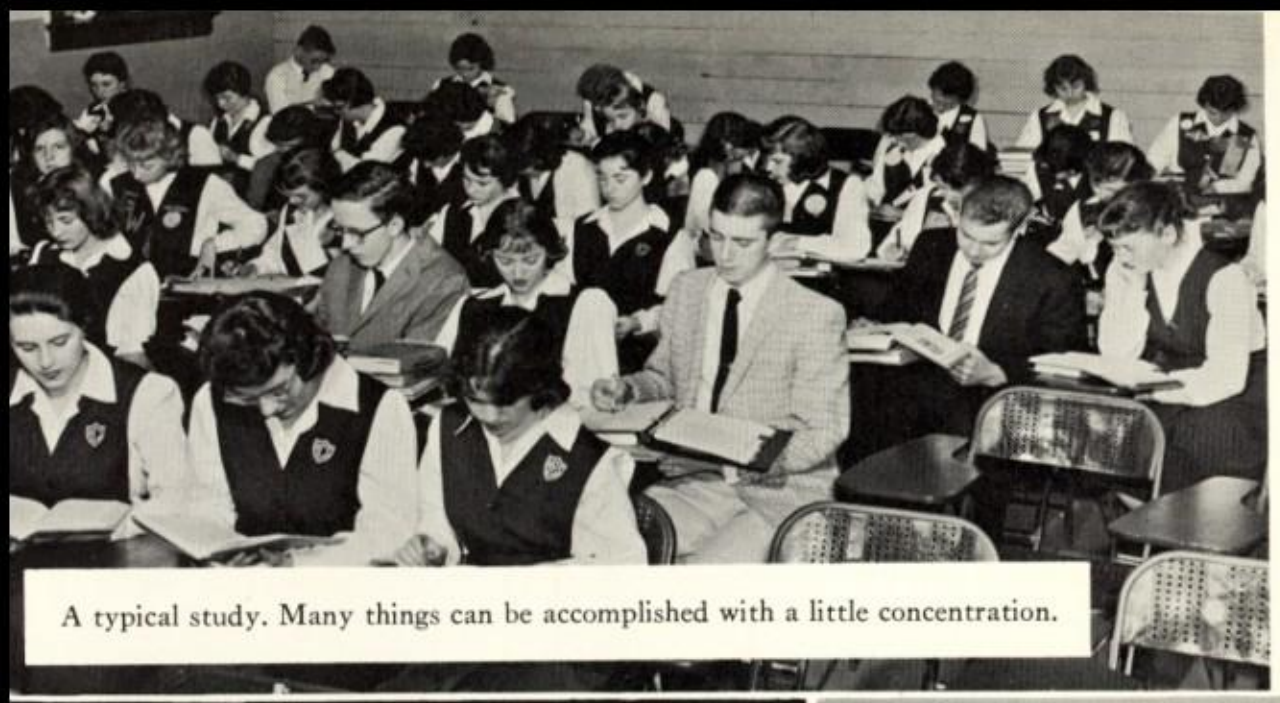
All these assemblies had one common purpose: to influence students to do or not to do something. The pep club held rallies at various times during the football and basketball seasons to inspire us to back the Crushers. The students responded with plenty of spirit and the players copped many triumphs. Thus, Catholic High, without pep rallies, would be like a car without a motor; the best possible equipment, but nothing to propel it.

"Happy Talk" is evident in this group. Hollywood here we come!

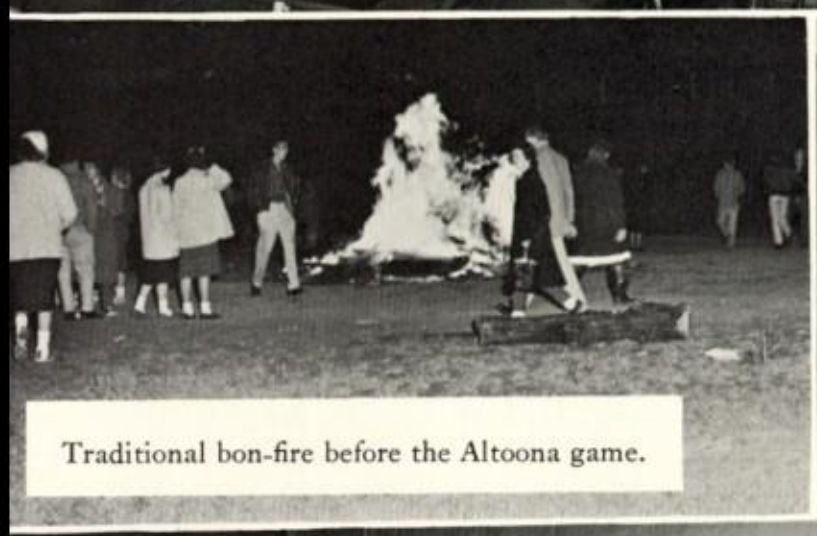
Our class officers ballet to "South Pacific."

The Cheerleaders always came out with a rousing cheer of Beat 'em at all the games and rallys, even this mock game between the senior football players and the Junior Varsity.

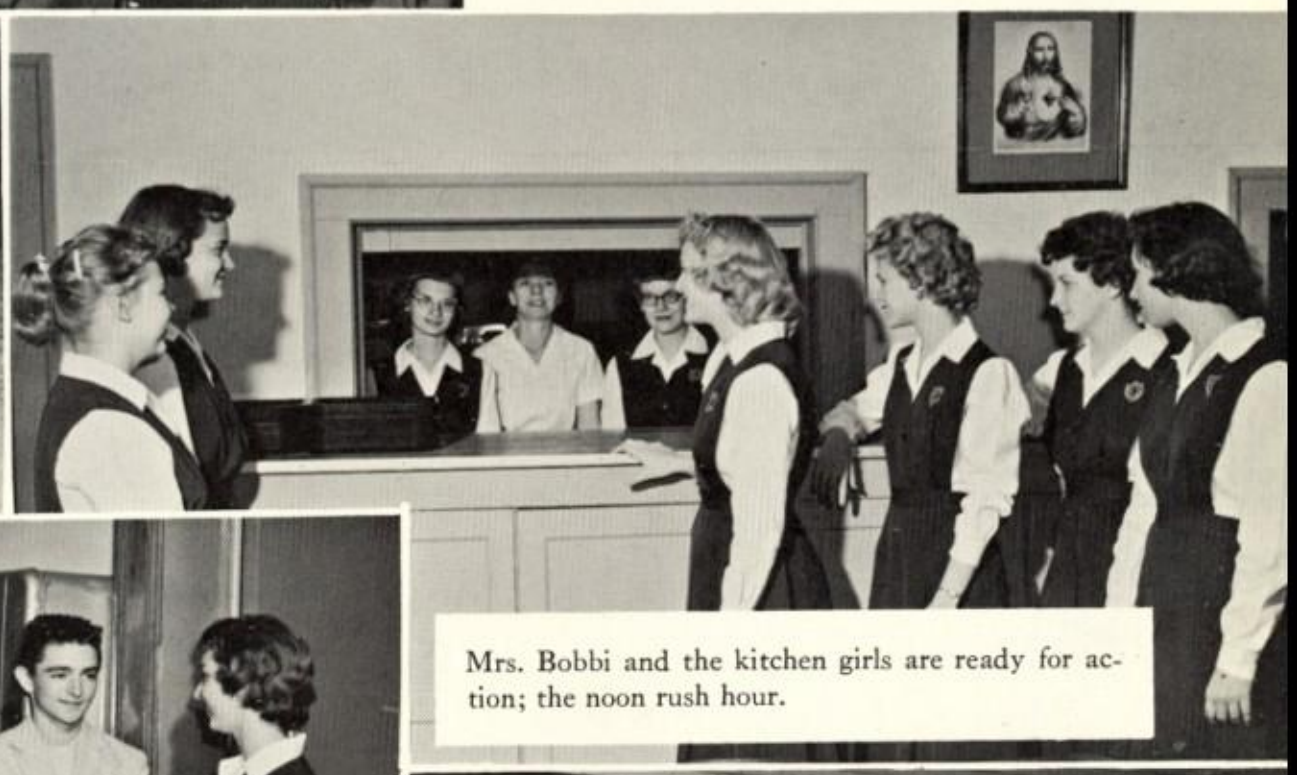
AROUND OUR SCHOOL



A typical study. Many things can be accomplished with a little concentration.



Traditional bon-fire before the Altoona game.

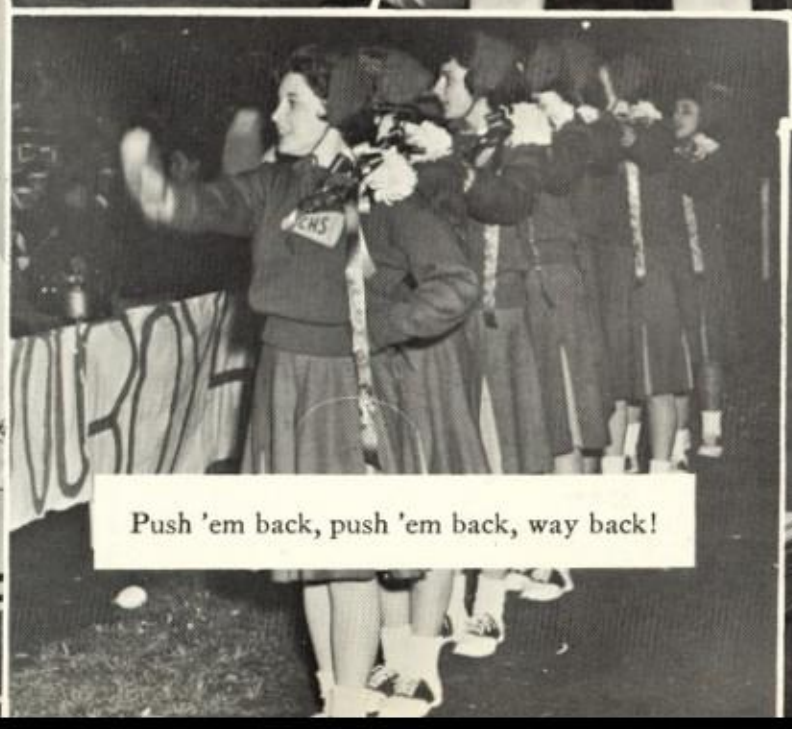


Mrs. Bobbi and the kitchen girls are ready for action; the noon rush hour.

Everything seems to center around the candy machine. This can become expensive, boys!

Mr. Bako chats with the boys about the Pirates. How's Pittsburgh?

Miss Will explains her new typewriter to the girls.



Push 'em back, push 'em back, way back!

Sister and the girls stock the candy machine.

Barclay (Albert Jerva) is overcome by anger and takes a tantrum in the middle of the courtroom. Minnie Strausson (Carol Vedock), Will Bond (Robert Cowan), Carl Leslie (Charles Flaugh), view the scene with amazement.

THE PEOPLE vs. MAXINE LOWE

"The PEOPLE vs. MAXINE LOWE," a dramatic mystery by Luella E. McMahon, was presented by our Junior Class on February seventh, eighth, and ninth, 1959. Superior Court No. 14 of the State of Pennsylvania was the scene of the three act drama.

Under the direction of Sister Jeremy, producer, and Donald Sabo, director, our Juniors had a chance to prove their acting ability to the fullest.

On trial for the murder of her husband, Maxine Lowe (Carol Sheridan) is being defended by a newcomer to the field of defense, Attorney James Hathaway (Denis Grady). The prosecuting Attorney, Warren Cass (Eugene Babik), who has the reputation of winning a case no matter whose "skeleton in the closet" he uncovers, is doing his utmost to prove her guilt. Assisted by Jessalyn Meredith (Claudine Fyock) who, without wanting to state it, really had a liking for Maxine. As our prosecutor keeps digging for facts, it is uncovered that Jessalyn is Maxine's daughter by her first marriage. With this turn of events she goes to Maxine's side to help defend her.

As witness after witness is called to the stand, it looks as if Maxine will be found guilty in the first degree; but at the point of breaking, the climax is reached when Vincent Barclay (Albert Jerva) goes into a fit of rage confessing to the murder of Daniel Lowe. With his confession two victories were won; Maxine is freed and James Hathaway has his first big case.

The stagehands; Charles Deible, Robert Sapita, John Lopresti, James Aust, Louis Sebastian, are sneaking a break and yet looking over some of the important facts on the light effects for the stage.

While getting sworn in, Eve LaMar (Marcianne Popchak) turns on the charm towards Will Bond (Robert Cowan), court clerk.

The Jury: Gene Werner, Dorothy Chumrik, John Roddy, Ann Cardiff, John Lopresti, Mary Maher, James Havas, Kathleen Comiskey, Richard Torok, Suzanne Karcher, William Zimmerman, Patricia McCabe, listen attentively while Cass (Eugene Babik) tries to win their favor.

Happy over their victory Frank Marston (Thomas Kane), Ed Brushett (Robert Boyle), Irene Holt (Antoinette Carino), Jessalyn Meredith (Claudine Fyock), Sarah Lorrison (Kathleen Sabo), Maxine Lowe (Carol Sheridan), Rose Malone (Cassandra Bezila), Alice Jackson (Patricia Meagher), Carl Leslie (Charles Flaugh), James Hathaway (Denis Grady), made the courtroom noisy and The Honorable Judge Weston (Daniel Duffy) tries to get order.

Maxine Lowe (Carol Sheridan) becomes quite ill, but apparently Cass (Eugene Babik) believes she is putting on this scheme to stall for time. Hathaway (Denis Grady) and Cass are having a disagreement of opinions, but The Honorable Judge Weston (Daniel Duffy) taking everything in shocking stride decides to adjourn court until tomorrow.

THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK

Mr. Otto Frank	Daniel Duffy
Miep	Kathleen Sabo
Mrs. Petronella Van Daan	Judith Hindmarsh
Mr. Van Daan	Denis Grady
Peter Van Daan	John Roddy
Mrs. Edith Frank	Carol Sheridan
Margot Frank	Suzanne Karcher
Anne Frank	Mary Jo Kamnikar
	Kathleen Phillips
Mr. Kraler	Eugene Werner
Mr. Albert Dussel	Albert Jerva
German Soldier	Ronald Kriss

The fear shown in this scene expresses their realization that this is the last time they may be together, alive.

Gathered about the table, all bow their heads in reverence as Mr. Frank begins the Hannukah ceremonies.

Tears fill Miep's and Mr. Kraler's eyes as Mr. Frank reads Anne's last entry. In reply to the warmness of the diary, reliving the years of their hiding, Mr. Frank breaks down, saying, "She puts me to shame!"

The story unfolded in the pages of Anne Frank's diary reveals the plight of a persecuted people forced to go into hiding. It takes place during the years of World War II and immediately after, in the top floors of a spice factory in Amsterdam, Holland. Eight persons trying to exist in cramped quarters, guarding each breath, each footstep, counting every second, every scrap of food smuggled to them by friends.

Anne Frank, thirteen years old, faced many emotional problems during those important years of her life, when she had to grow up in a world so strange and bewildering to her. It was difficult to be imprisoned in dark rooms when she so loved the stars, and the flowers, and the birds. In fact, all present lived under a constant strain, created by the threat of discovery by the Nazis.

Anne's endearing nature was captured in her final line, which reveals what the innocent heart of a young girl feels after much suffering, "In spite of everything, I still believe that people are really good at heart."

The play was presented on November 21, 22, and 23 under the guidance of our able director, Mr. Donald Sabo, and our producer, Sister M. Jeremy, S.C. Combined efforts on the part of the entire group provided a presentation which was both entertaining and inspirational.

Lending their hands to create the personages of Peter, Mr. Kraler, Anne, and Mrs. Frank, are a few members of the make-up crew. Donna Campbell, Sandra Pettina, Rosemary Ferg, and Patricia Nitch.

These are the men behind the scenes who transformed our stage into a realistic replica of the "secret annex." Leonard Koch, Tim Kelly, Larry Gregorchick, Robert Wasylson, and Ronald Mizak. Above: Phil Pettina and Phil McCall.

Friar Tuck, posing as Robin Hood, speaks through the bars to the real Robin and Little John.

A group of villagers take their bow after their lively Morris Dance. The dance was the main attraction at the Nottingham Fair.

Robin Hood

"Ho then for jollity, fun, and frivolity." These were the pass words as the Glee Club, under the direction of Sister Anne, S.S.J., presented their long-awaited operetta Robin Hood. The Men of Sherwood Forest performed for three memorable days, April 17, 19, and 20. The famous DeKoven masterpiece takes place in England during the days of Richard I, and contains in musical form, the popular epic of Robin Hood and his band of outlaws.

The dancing, under the direction of Sister Georgine, C.D.P., and the stagework, headed by Sister Maliya, S.S.J., were both praised highly as being superb.

As it turned out, this was to be the final production headed by Sister Anne at JCHS, who for four years served as head of the Music Department.

If one listens carefully, he can still hear the Glee Club singing the beautiful selections. Everyone who saw or heard the performances will long remember Robin Hood and the Men of Sherwood Forest.

Dame Durden warns her daughter Annabelle about being seen with an outlaw, Alan-a-Dale, from Sherwood Forest. Needless to say, they were finally united in wedlock.

The Sheriff of Nottingham advises Sir Guy on the ancient art of winning the hand of a lady.
Robin and Maid Marian bid farewell as Robin departs for Sherwood Forest.
Will Scarlett, distinguished as a smith, works on trick chains for Robin's captivity.

GLEE CLUB

The Christmas Cantata, "Led by a Star," was one of the most beautiful undertakings of our school year. The true spirit of this season with its sense of closeness to Christ was portrayed to all by the celestial singing of the glee club joined in harmony with the religious beauty of the tableau scenes.

This production is appreciated even more when we realize the hours of untiring work that are devoted to making it possible. The members of the glee club and Sister Georgianna devote much of their free time before and after school to attain this. Our congratulations to all for a huge success.

The Band of Johnstown Catholic High can be seen each Friday night, rain or shine, marching down Main Street to the Point Stadium following the lively steps of our drum major, James Zatalava. Under the expert supervision of Sister Mary Georgiana and Mr. Walter Werzyn, the band moves through precision drills and marches accompanied by majestic music during half times at the football games.

The band extended their duties this year by marching in the Veteran's Day parade and the annual Christmas parade. Also three of the boys, Fred Lang, John Babyak, and Frank Soltis performed extra duty as they played carols during the intermissions at the Christmas Cantata.

This year the Band received a new addition to their family, six beautiful red and gold pearl drums, which provide a rhythmic beat for the marching feet of the band of the Crimson and Gold.

Mr. Walter Werzyn
Band Director

These senior musicians have gained as much from their stay with the JCHS band, as it profited from their talent and unselfish work and practice. Donna Spenger, Kathleen St. John, Carol Huss, Barbara Fisher and Regina Bane make up the senior girls. Fred Cosgrove, John Roddy, Ray Hill, and Ed Cable are the male band members.

The band meets at St. John's School before all the games to tune up, and make a last minute check on the new formation for the half-time program, as they are doing here.

Members of the decorating committee contributed much time and energy into the transformation of the gym. Usually a scene of hustle and bustle, the gym took on a new face of formality for the dance.

SYMPHONY OF SNOWFLAKES

The time had come for the joyous climax of our Christmas Holidays, the Symphony of Snowflakes. Freshman, sophomores, juniors, and seniors were ushered into the gymnasium bedecked in royal blue and white. That night, the gym-usually filled with cheering and applauding students-took on the appearance of a formal ballroom. Couples exhibited their skill in dances ranging from waltzes to cha-chas, provided by the smooth orchestra of Jimmy Cannin.

Amid the soft glow of candlelight, refreshments were graciously served by underclassmen, and were enjoyed by all present. An atmosphere of serenity throughout the gym made certain that this evening would be one never to be forgotten.

David and Polly prove beyond a doubt that juniors, too, have their fun at the Christmas Dance.

In the role of chaperones, these ladies and gentlemen seem to be recalling the days when they may have waltzed across the very same floor.

The beaming smiles on the faces of Barbara, John, Katie, and Mike mirror thoughts of a memorable evening.

Conversation and 7-up flows freely as these seniors join the orchestra in taking an intermission.

All who went to Shangri-La after the dance found that its setting in the pines, provided a pleasant atmosphere for the close of an eventful evening.

Diane and John reflect on the true meaning of Christmas and the traditional theme for our holiday dance.

These couples; Judy and Bob, Nancy and Andy, Dot and Dan, Nancy and Bob, are looking forward to an enjoyable evening at the Prom, a long anticipated event.

WITH A SONG IN MY HEART

After hours of planning and striving for perfection, the night of the Junior-Senior Prom appears to the melody of "With a Song In My Heart."

Amid the brightly colored decorations one can find happiness brilliantly shining on the faces of classmates as they try to crowd the glorious souvenirs into an everlasting memory of beauty.

The rhythmic swaying of the music adds to the splendor and the air of fairyland as one beat after another changes the dance steps from one of whirling to a dreamy floating across the floor. With each added note, the hands of time move steadfastly onward.

The night we had waited for so long was over too soon; it was to the strains of "Goodnight Sweetheart" that the night of the Junior-Senior Prom was over, leaving memories which will forever be alive in our hearts.

Taking time out from dancing, Barbara and Charles make a private act of consecration to the Blessed Mother, Queen of Heaven, Earth, and the Prom.

With the introduction of new and old friends, a look of content and happy thoughts take the place of talk as our chaperones take time to relax. (Wonder what caught the eye of Mrs. Phillips?)

Sitting out a dance to enjoy conversation are Claudine, Ronald, Carol, Bob, Ronald, Bonnie, Bob, and Peggy.

SPORTS

The Olympic torch is an ancient symbol depicting competition of only the finest degree, both physically and morally. It is this torch we offer to all to carry through life, that its rays might show the bearer to be a person who will accept nothing but fair play and clean sportsmanship from all sides.

We have tried to maintain always the highest standards of sportsmanship in athletic competition, considering, as did the ancient Greeks in their Olympic Games, any violation of these standards as a desecration. Clean sportsmanship has given us invaluable lessons in self-confidence, and in working as a team with a common purpose. Even the spectator must have a sense of fair play, for this is the essence of the school spirit upon which we pride ourselves. We have learned that our bodies are temples of the Holy Spirit, and that the Divine is so much man's intimate that the apostle, St. Paul, could exclaim, "Ye men are gods!" Small wonder then, that even in sports our Catholic Education searches out and upholds what is truest and best.

Our Torch of Catholic Sportsmanship and teamwork must be raised aloft, not only in the field or on the floor, but in any test of life that challenges us to a contest. As we leave our High School, we take with us that wholesome spirit of fair play which will help to make each of us an American citizen of whom our Church and our country can be proud.

PEP CLUB

Everything must have its first and this year the Pep Club got theirs in the form of Frank Brown, George Belin, and Bernard Koval, the first boys in the Girl's Pep Club. With their help the Pep Club is promoting "spirit" to the fullest, and are responsible for the enthusiastic cheering at the games.

When Sister Camilla, advisor to the Pep Club, comes up with a new and absolutely different idea you can be sure that the first to help will be the officers: Peggy Probst, Vice-President; Carol Sheridan, Treasurer; Nancy Canini, President; and Kathleen Comiskey, Secretary. The willing co-operation of the student body is a definite factor in promoting these various projects.

Sister M. Camilla, C.D.P.
Physical Education, History

Willingly, ably, and enthusiastically the Pep Club is behind the athletic program all the way. We show by our many new and different ideas that with us it's all or nothing. Shining forth as our glowing torch we bring out the JCHS spirit in every undertaking. Besides encouraging the players and promoting attendance at games the Pep Club also trys to encourage even a better spirit by presenting to the student body the latest in pennants, buttons, and bookcovers, which proudly display the name of Johnstown Catholic.

GIRLS' GYM

Around and under they go to the beats of the newest square dances. Could it be that Regina and Barbara are trying to figure out who is to lead?

As any girl who takes gym can tell you, you never see them sitting or standing still one minute of gym period as these gym "actresses" are showing.

The Monogram Club is composed of athletes that have lettered in a varsity sport at JCHS. It is through the club's efforts that jackets and sweaters are obtained for all sportsmen at the end of their senior year. ROW TWO: John Kozora, Mike Foran, George Belin, Charles Kasper, Dan Hansen, Denis Grady. ROW THREE: Steve Bovino, Gary Ripple, Tom Trexler, John Stofa, Fred Garbinski.

FOOTBALL

Catholic High entered the football season with all its usual splendor, and high hopes for a successful season. A new coach, Mr. Joseph Shumock, was on hand to lead the Crushers through their rugged ten game schedule. Coach Shumock knew he had a major rebuilding job before him, and all he asked was that the boys play their best. In this capacity none of the players failed him.

Although the squad won three, lost five, and tied one, the team lived up to the high standards of Catholic High. Who will ever forget the Altoona Catholic game in which the Crushers literally crushed the Marauders statistically, still the Crimson and Gold came out on the short end of the score.

With a few more breaks the team could easily have won more, but still it was never said that the team let the school down. The class of '60 will long remember its football players with respect, pride, and the utmost admiration.

STEVE BOVINO 5′11″, 165 lbs., End. A rugged player, Steve held down the terminal spot to the best of his ability, and contributed his share to the Catholic High success. He played a good brand of football from the kickoff to the final whistle.

GEORGE GELLES 5′9″, 160 lbs., Guard. George is a quick and aggressive player who put the good of the team above all else. As co-captain of the squad, he stood his own ground against bigger and heavier opponents. George seemed to be everywhere on the football field, and was the type of player who can inspire a team to victory.

GEORGE BELIN 5′10″, 165 lbs., Center. George was an outstanding blocker and a defensive standout. A dependable player, George could always be counted on to do a good job. He sustained injuries for the good of the team, and was an important cog in the Crimson Crusher squad.

Our Senior Players

GARY RIPPLE 5′11″, 190 lbs., Fullback and Halfback. Gary has been cracking the line for three years. Switched from fullback to halfback in the middle of the season, Gary displayed as much skill in his new position as in his old. His great ability to pick up that extra yard when needed, seemed to stand the team on its feet.

MIKE FORAN 5′9″, 155 lbs., Halfback. Although small in stature, Mike more than made up for this with his ability and speed. A fiery player, Mike always put out 100%. His great determination to win was an important factor in helping the Catholic High offense click. Always dependable, he added his contribution to the team's success.

JOHN STOFA 6′2″, 165 lbs., Halfback. John started the season as Quarterback but was moved to Halfback where his speed, skill, and dependability made him one of the sparkplugs of the Crusher team. A team player all the way, he filled the gap at halfback when the need arose. A great part of the team's success can be laid to John's ability to come through in the clutch.

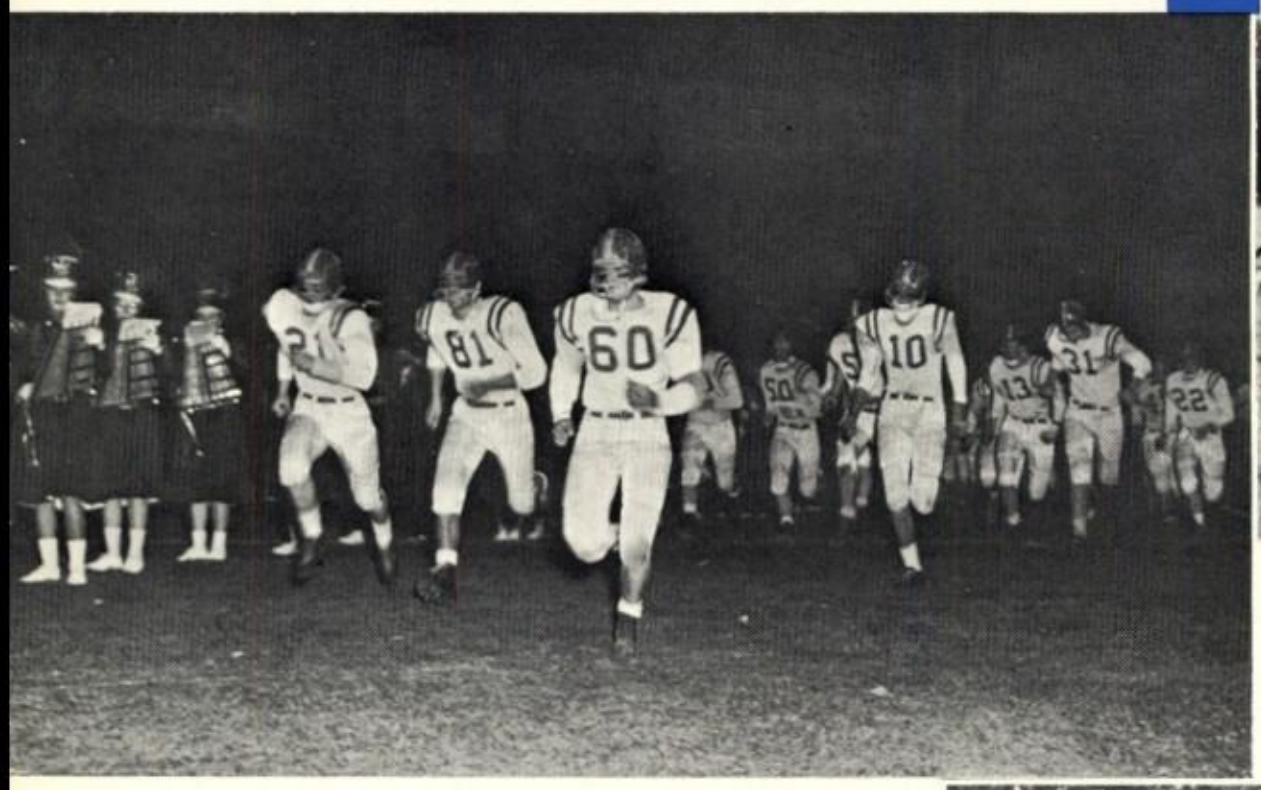
THOMAS "Tiny" TREXLER 6′2″, 265 lbs., Substitute tackle. Tiny was the heaviest man on the team with just as much weight in heart. The big, rugged tackle saw limited action, but when he did play, you can bet he played his best. It's men like him who build morale on a football team.

ROBERT HARBRANT 5′11″, 160 lbs., Substitute end. Although Bob saw a limited amount of action, he was a vital asset to the squad and gave much of his time and energy for the good of the team.

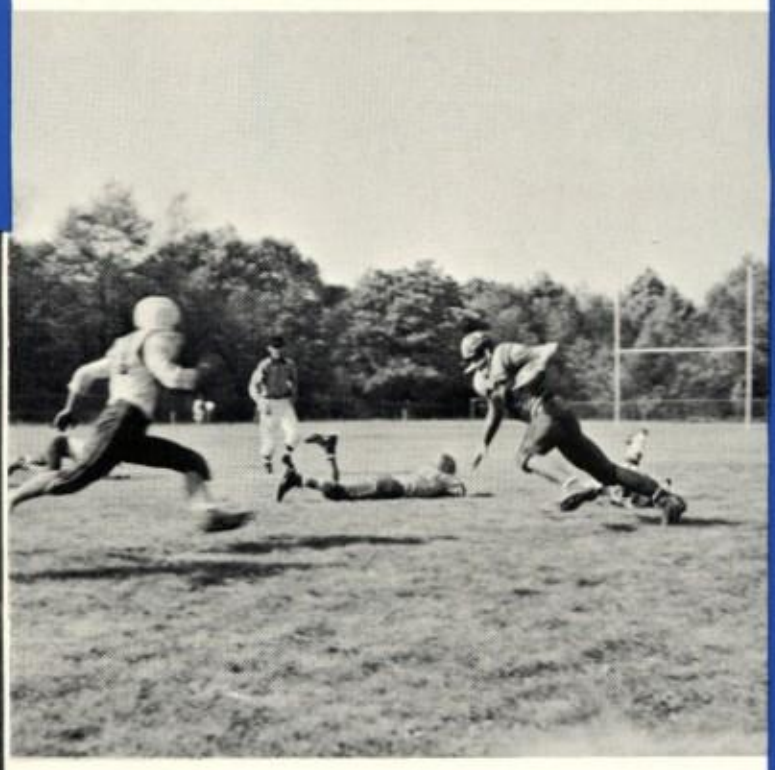
Managers are a vital asset to any football team. John Antonini, Paul Brandle, and Gene Werner were the men behind our team.

RONALD KRISS 5′11″, 160 lbs., Tackle. Although seeing limited action due to an injury, Ron showed a great desire to aid the team in anyway possible. He gave much of his time for the good of the squad.

GRIDIRON ACTION



With grim determination the varsity charges onto the field anticipating a win.



A Crusher attempts to evade an onrushing charge as George Gelles throws a decisive block.

Pete Duranko charges across the goal line. Touchdown!

Mike Foran leaps for a long pass.

Pete trys to cut a corner while racing for pay dirt.

Mr. Leroy Leslie
Business Training, Economics, Coach

Coach Leslie climbs the board for a rebound in the annual Faculty-Varsity Game.

Mr. Leroy "Axle" Leslie, former Crusher basketbal standout, returned to Cath. High as mentor of th Crimson cagers. The Crushers added another new look by entering the West Central League, in which they placed second, although defeating the winner twice.

By their last second finishes these Lesliemen proved their skill and determination. "I don't know how I could live through another one!" shouted an excited radio announcer, as Mike Foran, fresh from his 37 point record-breaker at Altoona, put our Diocesan Champs ahead for keeps in his never-to-be-forgotten last second desperation hook shot, chalking up a 58-57 victory over Erie to parallel our 89-88 overtime at Altoona.

Then the Mighty, Mighty Crushers came face to shoulder with the highly regarded North Catholic of Pgh. Although the Trojans built up a 15 point lead from the start, the Crushers threw North into a frenzy as they stormed through the second half for a 64-60 win. As one coach remarked, "Too many teams, including ours, underestimated Johnstown.

And yet another team was to underestimate the Crushers. Before a highly partisan crowd of 4007 at Philadelphia's Penn Palestra, our five mighty mites battled the kangaroo men of Norristown Bishop Kenrick. The Crusher "bigger they are, the harder they fall" policy, along with precision playing, paved the way to the decisive 62-61 victory, which made Leroy's Little Men the state renowned.

BASEBALL

When spring arrives on the scene, the spirit at Catholic High turns to baseball. This year our new coach, Mr. Leroy Leslie, had an experienced team with which to work. They played in the tri-county league where they made a fine showing for our Alma Mater.

John Stofa explains the position in which the bat should meet the ball. The other senior members of the team look on.

TRACK

Track, in the past a minor sport at Catholic High, rose to new heights in 1960 under the leadership of Mr. Joseph Shumock. Although lacking a home track on which to practice, the Crimson and Gold were not without confidence when it came to competing with schools much larger than JCHS.

We have gained confidence and developed ability, but above all we have learned the quality of sportsmanship both in victory and defeat, a quality typical of a Crusher.

GOLF

Golf, although not a major sport at JCHS, boasts of having the finest overall record of any sport. The 1960 season proved no exception to the rule as the Crushers invaded the links to compile an enviable record.

Under the capable direction of Father Clark George, the golf team recorded many hours of long practice, a must for any good team and these efforts reaped benefits appreciated by all participants at JCHS.

An afternoon match at North Fork Country Club. Is your score that high, Denny?

Denis Grady and Len Koch look on as Al Jerva chips on to the green.

Len Koch putts that extra long one for his par and the stroke that wins the hole.

The top boosters in the yearbook patron drive were Mary Lou Glavach and C. Robert Cowan.

We wish to express our gratitude to all of our patrons.

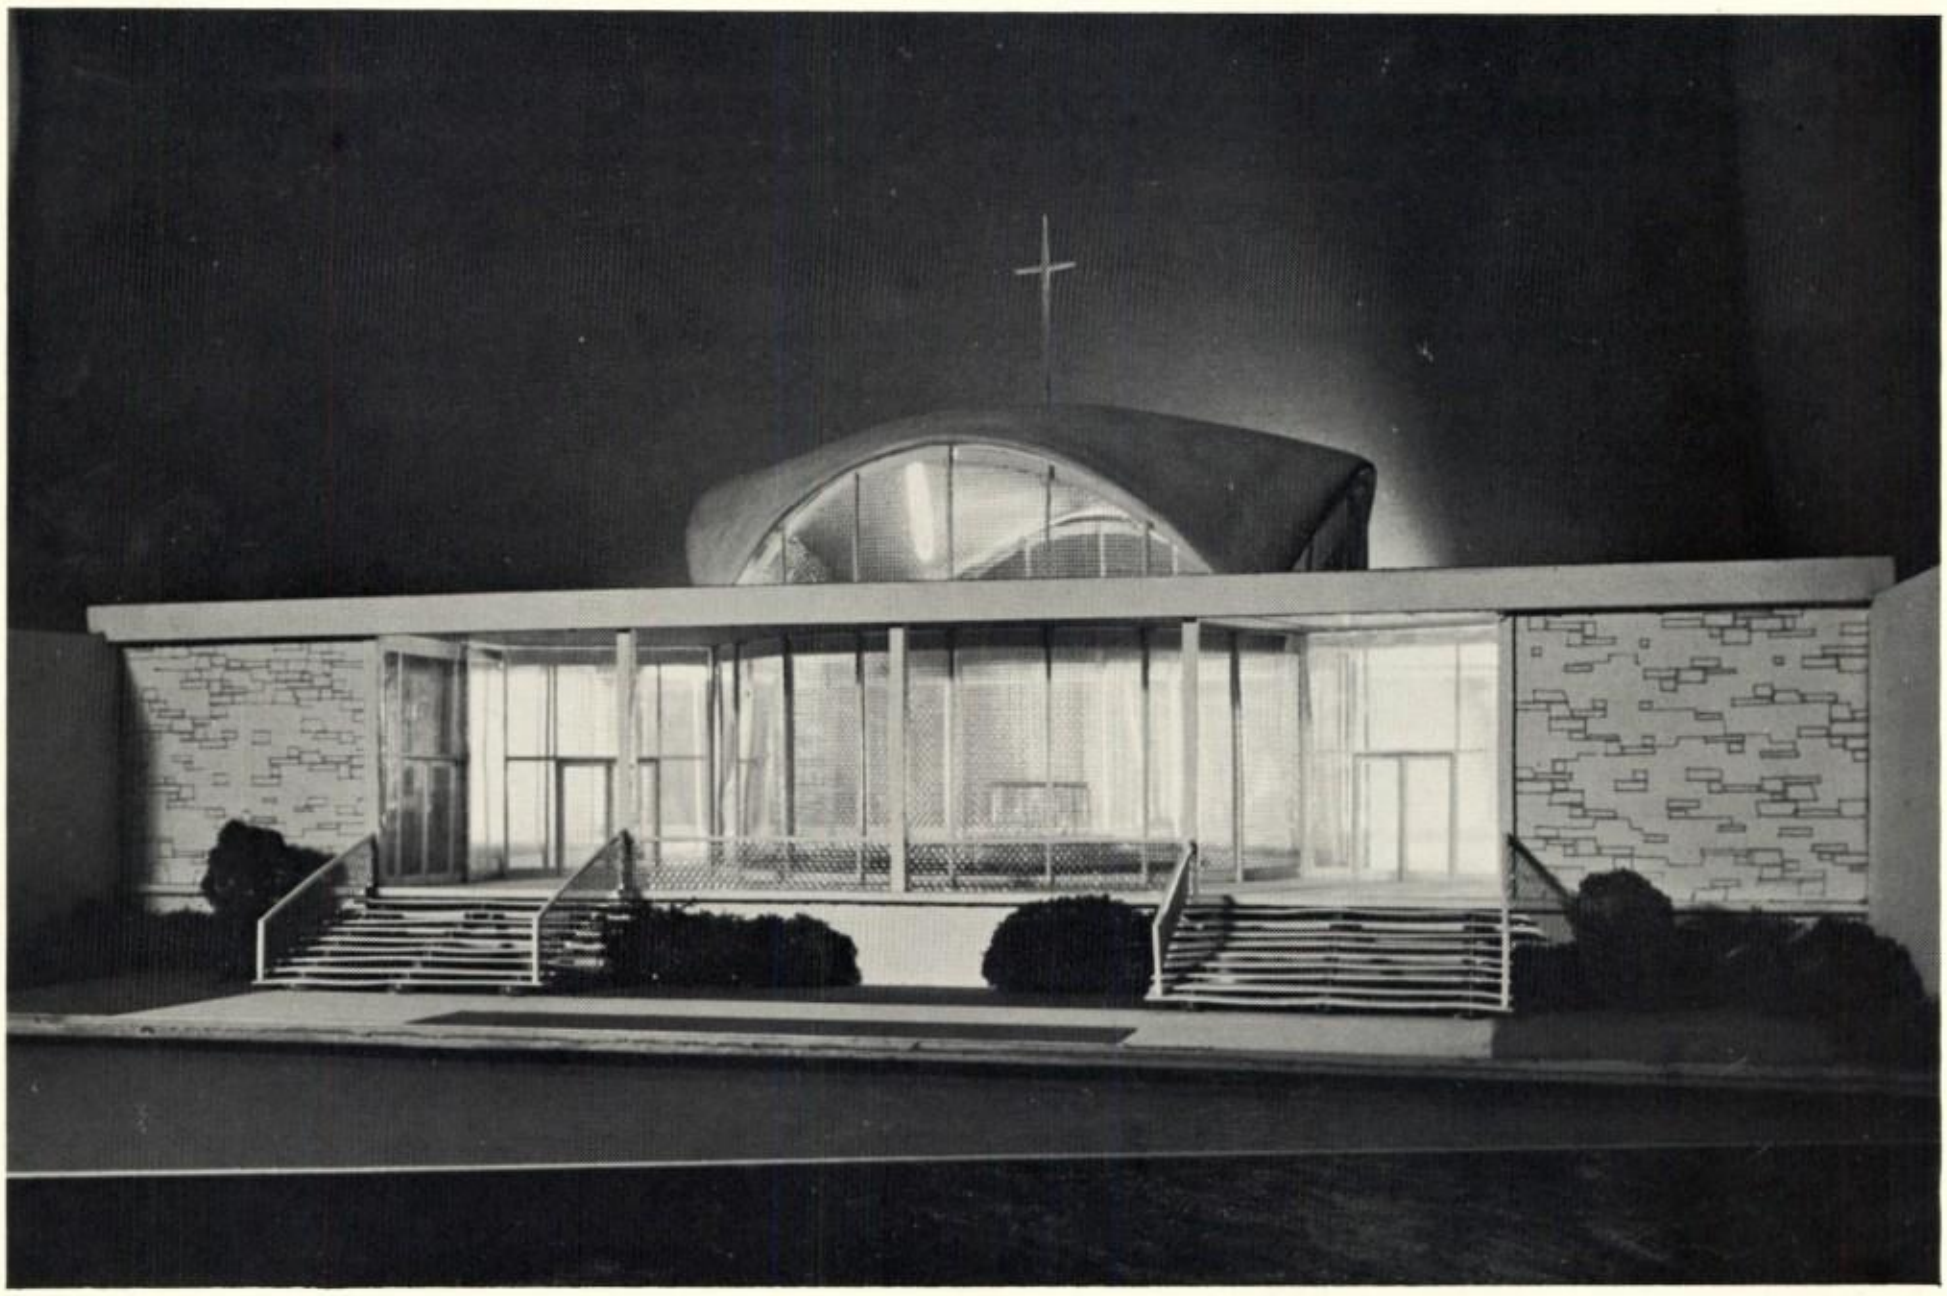
The shortest distance between two points is often an automobile, especially when time elements have to be considered. Our thanks to the following boys who provided transportation for the many necessary errands: R. Sapita, L. Sebastian, J. Jenc, W. Raymond, R. Statnik, J. Mabon, C. Deible, D. Grady, M. Foran, A. Rushin, and J. Roddy (missing from picture).

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We wish to express our gratitude to the following, who helped make MEMORIES '60 a success:

Cover Studio.
Mr. John Coleman of The Tribune-Democrat.
Mr. Francis Peterson and Wm. J. Keller Inc.
Levy's Sport Shop for the use of athletic equipment.
Reverend Linford F. Greinader and the Faculty at JCHS.
Our student body for their co-operation.

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE



View of the proposed Chapel, which will be a part of the new high school. Work on the new building is to be started in the spring of 1960.
